

THERE is nothing so slow to move as the human mind. Witness the left-hand drive of American automobiles. The right-hand drive is mechanically better, but it would have required us to learn to turn to the left, as the English do. It was easier to change the machine than our habits. Or consider feet and yards, or pounds and pence. Meters are better than yards, and dollars than pounds, but not to those who would have to readjust their minds to them.

This is what is the matter with Europe, and with the security of the world. Disarming the munitions of nations would be simple, if we could disarm their minds. The new unified organization of Europe would be perfectly workable, if its operators did not constantly drop back into the mental habits of the old Europe, with its hostile alliances. It is old prejudices rather than new burdens that stagger the world.

"NATURE never deceives," said Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis in an Easter sermon. "If nature brings death, then there must be something beautiful in death." Nature, indeed, does not deceive. But nature, also does not tell all the truth. Or, if it does, then the beauty of death is an impersonal, not a personal, immortality. Nature cares nothing for the individual. "So careful of the kind she seems; So careless of the single life."

NATURE teaches immortality everywhere. The body living creatures pass on through other living creatures, in an ever-renewing life. Life is immortal, in a continuing line of descent. Thought and character are immortal, in ever-expanding influence. Force is immortal, changing from form to form and going on forever. Nothing is lost—but nothing remains individual. The codfish lays a million eggs, that one and two may survive to perpetuate the species. Billions of men have perished, that the survivors might be those who could perpetuate a stronger, a braver or an abler humanity. The old man's life is as precious to himself as the young man's life because he is no longer needed for the race, nature gets rid of him. The only thing not worth preserving by the analogy of nature, is the individual.

IF, THEREFORE, we aspire to individual immortality, we must seek the grounds of our hope elsewhere than in nature's lessons. We can not even find them in our own past. Personally, we know that we pre-existed in our ancestors. If there are those who wish mystically to believe that we also pre-existed individually, they must at least agree that we have lost memory and conscious continuity with the former individuality, and that it does not personally concern us, in the interests of this life. So looking backward brings a message of personal immortality, looking forward, we may look inward, for the vision of faith—but not outward, to nature.

TO JUDGE by the horrific tones of some recent oratory "advisory opinions" must be terribly dangerous things. Well: this is what happened recently in Massachusetts. When a Massachusetts commission presented a report to the legislature favoring old age pensions, the attorney-general thought that such a law, if passed, might be unconstitutional. So the legislature, under a power given it by the Massachusetts constitution, asked the supreme court this question: "May the general court constitutionally enact a law which will provide non-contributory system of old-age pensions?" That is all. How much fuss would it save this nation if Congress similarly had the right to ask the supreme court in advance whether a beer and wine law would be constitutional, instead of waiting through the long years until, perchance, some future Congress actually enacts such a law, only to have the supreme court set it aside?

THE horrendous warnings, to be sure, have been, not against this sort of advisory opinions, as they are found in several American states, but against the far more judicial practice of the World Court. The World Court refuses to give advisory opinions of this sort on hypothetical questions, in advance of an actual case. It merely issues declaratory judgments, after an actual hearing between the parties, in the case in which they have arisen, on the legal questions involved in a case whose remaining non-justiciable aspects are under advisement by another tribunal. Thus, none of the objections to the Massachusetts system apply to these judgments, mislabeled "advisory."

But, even if they did—is that system, as illustrated in the preceding paragraph, anything very awful? THE riots in Calcutta illustrate why India is not independent. Mohammedans and Hindus, neighbors in the same town, burn and desecrate each other's places of worship, kill each other, and are kept in partial peace only by British guns, and in security of their rights only by British justice. Half today that they would save the life of J. H. Johnson, a camper, who was caught in a cloudburst in the hills back of Glendora, near here a week ago. Johnson was found late last night, buried under a pile of driftwood. He was unconscious and was from lack of food and medical attention. It was learned from L. W. Spaulding, U. S. agent at

Man Shot in La Habra Election Riot

POLICE FIGHT OFF MOB OF 40 AT POLLS

Several Injured in Clash Which Is Outgrowth of Arrest by City Marshal OFFICERS ARE DARED

Accept Challenge to Meet Crowd in Front of Voting Place and Battle Ensues

City Marshal Leo Martin of La Habra this afternoon swore to a complaint charging William Noble with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder on the person of Leo Martin. Noble also was charged with carrying a concealed weapon and disturbing the peace. Martin declared he would swear to complaints against four or five others who were connected with the election day riot at La Habra last night.

ONE MAN WAS SHOT, and several were injured in an election riot at La Habra last night, when City Marshal Leo Martin and two deputies, Roscoe Bennett and his brother, Rolley Bennett, fought off a mob of 40 men in front of the La Habra polling place, according to a report made to the sheriff's office here today.

The trouble is said to have started in the afternoon when John Bradford, a deputy constable, was arrested by City Marshal Martin at the polling place and charged with violating the election laws through the distribution of campaign material. He was released on $100 bail.

At 11 p. m., according to City Marshal Martin, William Noble led a crowd to the polling place where Martin and his two deputies were on duty, while the ballots were being counted, and dared them to come out.

Revolver Against Ribs When they came out, it was reported that Noble shoved a revolver against Martin's ribs and the city marshal grappled with him. In the struggle, Martin's hand was caught beneath the trigger. Martin, it was reported, then dove under a table and Noble with a blow from his club. Deputy Roscoe Bennett was said to have drawn his revolver. When one of the mob struck down his hand, the bullet pierced his foot, according to the report reaching Santa Ana.

Four men are under arrest. Noble, whose brother, Rolley, is serving a term in the state penitentiary for a knife battle in which Grady Rutherford was killed, is charged with assault with a deadly weapon. Deputy Constable Bradford, his son, Frank, and Carl Miller were being held for investigation. The sheriff's office was notified of the riot shortly after midnight, and Ed McClellan, chief criminal deputy, and Deputy Jim Smith went to La Habra. By this time, the crowd was massed around the city hall, according to McClellan.

Rain Value to Southland 296 Millions

LOS ANGELES, April 13.—At the rate of $8 an acre foot, a reasonable amount, the recent rainstorm in Southern California has been worth $296,000,000, Dr. Geo. P. Clements, head of the agricultural department of the local chamber of commerce, declared today.

Clements estimates that 37,000,000 acre feet of water fell on the eight southern counties of California.

STECK SEATING ALTERS SENATE PARTY LINEUP

(By United Press) WASHINGTON, April 13.—With Daniel F. Steck functioning today as Democratic senator from Iowa, by the grace of considerable Republican support, including that of the G. O. P. national chairman, Senator Buder, Massachusetts, politicians began casting up the political balance resulting from the odd fight in the Steck-Brookhart election contest.

As a result, they found that the Democrats must win only eight of the 20-odd Republican senatorial seats this fall to overcome the Republican majority in the senate. The defeat of even four Republicans would throw the balance of power back to the "insurgent" Republican group, where it flourished last season.

The seating of Daniel F. Steck, Democrat, an "American Legion commander of Iowa," by the senate yesterday, changed the lineup to 55 Republicans, 40 Democrats and one Farmer-Laborite.

"I am glad it's all over," Brookhart said today, commenting on the senate vote of 45 to 41 by which he was unseated.

MUSSOLINI IS ATTACKED IN U. S. SENATE

McKellar Brands Italian Premier Dictator-Bandit In Debt Funding Speech

GOVERNMENT IS UPSET Opponents of Ratification Of Pact Insists King and Princes Were Bought Off

(By United Press) WASHINGTON, D. C., April 13.—Denunciation of Premier "Mussolini as a dictator-bandit," who abolished local self-government in Italy and established a secret police like the Russian "cheka" to murder and exile his opponents, was voiced in the senate today by Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee.

Directing his attack at Mussolini and at the proposal for funding the Italian debt of more than $2,000,000, the Democratic leader asserted that American members of the debt commission were "out-traded at every point."

Greatest Evil In Country "Mussolini is the greatest evil that has befallen the Italian people in 100 years," he said. "If it were to appear that the government of Italy vouchsafed to her people any real measure of liberty, I might be willing to vote for cancellation of the indebtedness," he said.

In making terms, the debt commission has taken the position that Italy was 72 per cent bankrupt, he said, adding sarcastically that "J. P. Morgan and company, in a $100,000,000 bond transaction with Italy, assured the bankers of this country that Italy was bankrupt only 6 per cent."

The Italian bonds were sold at 94. McKellar charged that the Italian premier had "overturned and destroyed the constitutional government of the Italian people" out of taxes wrung from the people, he has in substance bought off the king and those about him and he has bought and paid for princes and dukes who were likely to give trouble, the senator claimed, adding that he has abolished free speech in Italy, has muzzled the newspapers and has abolished both houses of parliament.

The only difference between the methods of Mussolini and those of Lenin and Trotsky, McKellar said, was that the Bolsheviks murdered the Russian royal family and Mussolini let the Italian royal family live, "buying them off."

HAWAIIANS AWAIT GREAT ERUPTION

HONOLULU, T. H., April 13.—All Hawaii was waiting today for the greatest eruption of Mauna Loa in recent years, following the prediction of explorers just returned after viewing the lava stream. Lava streams have cooled and moved, but another violent eruption is inevitable.

JOHNSON SHUTS OUT ATHLETICS IN 15 INNINGS

GRIFFITH STADIUM, WASHINGTON, April 13.—Walter Johnson, baseball's "big train," pitched one of the finest games of his more than 13 years in the majors when he blanked the Philadelphia Athletics in 15 innings here this afternoon, 1 to 0, giving Washington the first game of the 1926 American league season.

The game was played under a cloudy sky before a cold but enthusiastic crowd of fans and National officials. The spectacular and picturesque crowd included many members of congress. Vice President Charles G. Dawes threw out the first ball.

Johnson pitched masterful baseball, being at his best in the pinches. He allowed the heavy-hitting Mackes only six well scattered hits during the long contest. Ed Rommel, on the knoll for the Athletics, also pitched a great game, the Senators touching him for nine hits.

Washington won the affair in the last of the fifteen when "Bucky" Harris singled, Gosling doubled and Joe Harris singled, the three hits coming in succession.

DELAY ACTION ON SENATE CONTESTS

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The senate privileges and elections committee today delayed final action in the Johnson-Schall and Bursum-Bratton senatorial contests, threatening two to be disposed of this session.

The subcommittee's report to drop the contest of Magnus Johnson, Farmer-Labor of Minnesota, versus Thomas Schall, Republican, was presented informally to the full committee, which took no action.

PRESIDENT'S POLICIES PUT UP TO VOTERS

Administration Is Placed On Trial at Primaries Being Held in Illinois

G. O. P. IN TWO CAMPS Brennan Seeks Democratic Nomination for Senator Upon Liquor Platform

(By United Press) CHICAGO, April 13.—The Coolidge administration was on trial today, as Illinois voters marched to the polls to select senatorial nominees on both major political parties.

Illinois Republican voters today must decide either for or against the national administration. Senator William B. McKinley, Coolidge Republican, is seeking re-nomination with the administration program as his platform. He is opposed by Col. Frank L. Smith, downstate politician, who has waged a bitter battle against most of the administration program, particularly the World court resolution.

Principal interest in today's election will be in the Republican nomination, as the Democrats are expected to turn in a tremendous majority for George E. Brennan, Chicago political boss, who seeks a senate seat on a "dripping wet" platform.

Clean-fishes and spring temperatures tonight assures that the vote in today's primary—which has been highly ballhoofed for months—would be heavy. The early morning vote in Chicago was strong and first reports from downstate indicated that both parties were mustering full forces.

In Chicago, where, in addition to the senatorial fight, there are numerous bitter local contests, extreme precautions were taken to guard the polls. The entire police strength of the city was on duty, but, despite this, the first hour's voting brought reports of trouble. One election worker was slugged in the early voting and three precinct workers were reported kidnapped.

HOOVER ADVISES HELP FOR CUBA

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The Cuban economic depression, apparently due to a surplus sugar production, received attention of several high administration leaders today.

Senator Smoot, Utah, Republican, denounced in the senate the refineries and charged they were responsible for the Cuban depression in "their plans to control the world sugar industry."

N. Y. Senators Favor Wet Referendum

ALBANY, N. Y., April 13.—New York state senate today passed a bill calling for a state-wide referendum on modification of the prohibition law. The vote was 30 to 21. The measure provides for immediate organization of the poll. Eight Republicans and 22 Democrats voted for the measure. The referendum specifically will be on whether the voters favor so amending the Volstead law as to permit the states to determine for themselves what constitutes an intoxicant. The measure now goes to the assembly.

OIL FIRE LOSS AT TWO PLANTS IS 20 MILLIONS

(By United Press) LOS ANGELES, April 13.—Officials of the Union Oil Company of California began a check today to determine the total financial loss caused by the fires at the company's tank farms at San Luis Obispo and Brea.

The total loss of the two fires, which are in the final stages of burning out today, will run more than $20,000,000, the officials admitted.

Damage to the San Luis Obispo farm, which was the largest in the world, will total more than $15,000,000.

The oil at Brea was valued at $3,000,000, the refinery at $100,000, the destroyed tanks at $2,000,000 and gasoline destroyed at $180,000.

WILLIAMS STILL SILENT Spectators Few at Trial Of Intoxication Case at San Diego Marine Base

BULLETIN SAN DIEGO, April 13.—Capt. George F. Stokes, defense witness in the court-martial of Col. Alexander S. Williams, admitted under cross-examination late today that the accused officer was "unfit for the performance of his duty" on the night of March 6.

The admission from Captain Stokes came after Capt. Leo Hermie, judge advocate, introduced over objections of defense counsel a statement made to Gen. Smedley D. Butler, accuser of Colonel Williams.

This document, the military prosecutor charged, contained testimony contradictory to that given by Captain Stokes at the afternoon session of the court-martial. Captain Hermie demanded that the witness be impeached.

(By United Press) MARINE BASE, SAN DIEGO, April 13.—Evidence tended to "disprove the allegations of Gen. Smedley D. Butler that Col. Alexander S. Williams was intoxicated and unfit to be on duty on the night of the famous cocktail welcoming party in Butler's honor, was introduced by the defense today at the Williams court-martial.

Dr. Harold W. Williams, lieutenant commander and dental officer attached to the medical corps of the local marine post, testified he had observed Colonel Williams' actions at the Hotel Del Coronado on the night of March 6 and noted "nothing unusual" in the accused officer's actions.

"Did Colonel Williams show any symptoms of intoxication?" the judge advocate asked. "Not that I noticed," replied the witness.

Couldn't Smell Liquor "Did you smell any intoxicating liquor on his breath?" "I did not."

Dr. Williams was asked to describe his visit with Colonel Williams at the Coronado, where an alleged drinking party was staged after the dinner of welcome tendered General Butler at the Williams home. "When I first noticed the colonel and Mrs. Williams at the hotel, we exchanged the usual greetings and there was nothing unusual in his actions," he said.

INCREASE OF DRUNKS BLAMED TO PROHIBITION

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Drunkness is now more widespread than in the days of the open saloon, Stanley Shirk, research director of the New York Moderation league, told the senate prohibition committee today.

Opening the final stage of the wet case, Shirk revealed cases of his national survey, showing arrest for drunkenness had increased from 240,000 in 1920, to 550,000 in 1924.

Every state in the Union was represented in the survey, from which Shirk concluded:

"When we consider that drunkenness generally already has increased to the pre-prohibition level and that drunken drivers and drunken children have increased far above everything ever known before in this country, we cannot escape the conclusion that the Volstead act has utterly failed to do what it was intended to do, namely, promote temperance and sobriety."

Conditions have become worse, not better, each year. With the next generation drinking as never before, there seems to be no hope that the Volstead act in its present drastic form will accomplish its purpose in the long run.

"From the experience before national prohibition of the states which had restrictive laws, from the experience of the whole country during the restrictive years 1918-1919 and from the experience of the Canadian provinces, we believe that a greater degree of temperance can be attained by a wise restrictive law than by a bone dry law, which does not command the respect of a large part of the people."

Would Produce Revenue.

"We also are of the firm conviction that such a policy of wise restriction would have the incidental advantage of eliminating almost entirely the scandalous corruption and bribery of public officials; would stop the growth of the bootlegging millionaire class; would check disrespect for law and would, in addition, produce a handsome national revenue."

Shirk's survey showed that arrests for drunkenness decreased in most small towns, increasing mostly in cities.

Shirk said his figures were gained from official records of chiefs of police.

Before federal prohibition, only 12 states, representing 11.8 per cent of the population were bone dry, Shirk said, denying that states had manifested any desire for the federal plan.

Children Are Victims.

Father Francis Kasacrun, pastor of the Holy Family church, Sugar Notch, Pa., a mining community, declared children today were the victims of prohibition.

"All the saloons in my town are still open," the priest said.

"In addition, all the poolrooms, candy stores and drug stores sell bootleg liquor.

"Furthermore, families have their own stills.

"Before prohibition, the men drank," he continued. "Now the women and children drink.

"Women are running away from their homes in many cases with the star boarder.

"In my parish, one man has gone insane.

"Immorality is on the increase among children in the mining regions. Girls of 13 to 14 years expect boys to take them out on wild joy rides.

Walter Poor, first civilian witness, was called to the stand.

Poor, who is Colorado representative of the National City bank, New York City, said he attended the dance at the Hotel Del Coronado as a spectator and chatted with Colonel Williams in the reception room.

The witness was asked to tell of his conversations with the accused officer, and his answer was objected to on the grounds that any statements Colonel Williams might have made were not admissible as evidence because of a provision in military law that it would be regarded as self-serving.

The entire defense theory appeared vitally involved in this point of law and the question was argued for half an hour. Finally the court adjourned to an ante room to rule on the question.

Had "Stomach Trouble"

Colonel Williams had "stomach trouble" on the night of March 6 and was not "full of cocktails," as charged by Gen. Smedley D. Butler, according to the accused officer's defense, which opened today.

General Butler's accusations, hurled in open court-martial, were directly controverted by testimony of defense witnesses, who declared Colonel Williams had a sudden attack of stomach trouble at the Hotel Del Coronado, which necessitated his being assisted home.

General Butler told the court-martial that he saw Colonel Williams "intoxicated" with his own eyes, declaring vigorously that he was "so drunk he had to be carried from the hotel."

Colonel Williams' own story of the party at the hotel, which followed the famous "cocktail dinner" at his home in honor of General Butler, may never be told.

Colonel Not On Stand

He was not put on the stand when the case was resumed this morning and his counsel indicated they may close their presentation without calling him.

The accused officer's beautiful wife, formerly Miss Marie Thompson, Kentucky society girl, probably will not be summoned, either, according to latest defense plans. She was hostess at the party in honor of General Butler's arrival here, at which he claims cocktails were served to the assembled officers.

If Colonel Williams does take the stand, he was expected to refute flatly the startling declarations made by his commander and accuser, that he drank intoxicants.

The colonel has maintained a soldier-like silence in the proceedings thus far. His only words, "not guilty," were given in a low, firm tone when the court-martial began, and since then he has been unusually reticent, conferring but little with his counsel, and apparently content to let matters take their own course.

Reasons for Silence

This attitude of Colonel Williams was described by fellow officers as part of the marine "esprit de corps" that obedience to one's superiors is one of the first lines of duty. While his civilian counsel is urging that he take the stand and tell his own story of his "stomach trouble," Colonel Williams prefers that, if any defense is offered to the accusations of his commander, that it be presented by others than himself.

Of the four officers who testified for the prosecution, General Butler was the only witness who testified he actually saw Colonel Williams take a drink. "Of course he was drunk," General Butler testified. "His face was flushed and he was about to fall over."

The other three witnesses, Capt. Clifton B. Cates, Maj. Ross Rowell and Capt. Charles E. Rice, all agreed that drinks of some sort were served and that they "tasted" of the libations, but none testified having seen Colonel Williams touch a drop.

If Colonel Williams is found guilty, he may be either reduced in rank or dismissed from the service. Inasmuch as he was not on duty at the time of the alleged intoxication, the maximum penalty will probably not be invoked should General Butler's charges be upheld.

In event of acquittal, the accused officer will be immediately notified. If found guilty, the court-martial findings will be forwarded to Washington, D. C., and the verdict and penalty announced there.

PLANT WORK OF BURBANK WILL BE CARRIED ON

(By United Press)

SANTA ROSA, Calif., April 13.—Just as the plants which Luther Burbank nurtured so tenderly still live now that he has gone, so will the work he planned be carried on by those left behind.

"The spring planting will not be discontinued," said Mrs. Burbank today. "This is the growing season and my husband's plans will be carried out."

Members of the Burbank household, including his many expert gardeners, are expert naturalists, and they will be able to propagate every species which Burbank developed, if not display his wizardry in creating new flowers or vegetables.

Assistant May Remain

Alex C. Martin, of Huntington, W. Va., arrived at Burbank's home some weeks ago to take a post as student assistant. He may remain and help carry on the work.

The Burbank properties are valuable ones and the beauties of nature which the gardens contain are too precious to let die, now that the master who created them is dead.

Stanford university may take over Burbank's experimental farms at Sebastopol, near here, but in the smaller gardens near the residence the men who served him so faithfully during life will carry on.

City Continues in Sorrow

Santa Rosa continued in sorrow today, awaiting the memorial service tomorrow afternoon in tribute to its first citizen. Schools are closed and it was announced that the annual Rose festival, scheduled for next month, has been cancelled for this year. Burbank was to have crowned the festival queen.

Just at sunset tomorrow, shortly after the memorial service in a local park is concluded, the body of the naturalist will be laid away under a Lebanon cedar tree in Burbank's garden, across the street from his home.

The burial will be private, with the widow, a few old retainers and two or three personal friends gathered around the grave, dug beneath the tree in the soil which Burbank so often turned with his own hands.

BATTLE STARTS
OVER PROPOSAL
OF ANNEXATION

The battle over proposed annexation of Hawthorne school district to the Santa Ana school district opened today before the county superintendents, when a petition for union of the districts was filed and a hearing demanded by opponents of the plan. The supervisors fixed the hearing for April 26.

The petition filed carried signatures of 241 residents of the Hawthorne district. According to Deputy District Attorney D. G.
Wettlin, who advised the board, no hearing is necessary and the board can act upon the petition, if it is accompanied by recommendations from County Superintendent of Schools
R. P. Mitchell and the superintendents concerned, Jeffrey and Finley.

Inasmuch as members of the Hawthorne school board appeared and demanded time in which to present the opposition's side of the case, hinting at "underhand" methods on the part of the proponents, Wettlin advised and the supervisors agreed that a hearing should be held.

The school trustees present declared that many residents of the district had not had a chance to be heard, that many of the signers of the petition for consolidation did not know what they were signing and that there were many reasons why the Hawthorne district should not be joined to Santa Ana. They contended that the law had not been complied with and read sections of the school laws which, they held, precluded action. Wettlin and Mitchell both declared that the sections quoted did not apply to the case.

Fred Vollmer, leader of the consolidation movement, told the superintendents that the petition had, despite statements to the contrary, been presented to Mitchell before being filed with the board and that the matter also had been taken up with Supervisor Jeffrey.

GIVEN CONTINUANCE

The trials of a dozen gun club officials, charged with waste of water on their preserves along the Orange county shore line, were postponed when the cases came before Justice K. E. Morrison yesterday for hearing.

Through a misunderstanding, the court was not in position to hear the cases and they were continued to a date not definitely fixed. District Attorney A. P. Nelson announced that he would seek to have the trials set for April 27.

The gun clubs are charged with allowing artesian wells on their lands to flow unchecked, in violation of a state law, which prohibits such practice when the water is not being put to some practical agricultural use.

A number of Orange county ranchers were on hand in the courtroom yesterday to watch the trials.

HUSBAND FINED AND WIFE SENT TO JAIL

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Fisher, 1330 Gardena avenue, Long Beach, were tried in justice court in Seal Beach yesterday on drunk charges. Mrs.
Fisher was given a 21 day jail sentence in the Orange county jail and Fisher was fined $50.

Both were brought to the county jail last night, but Fisher was released when he raised money for his fine.

They were brought to the jail by Officer Snyder, of the Seal Beach police.

Playground to Be Discussed at Session of Board

Playground matters, budget figures, consideration of teachers' applications and other business items will be taken up by the Santa Ana school board at its regular meeting this afternoon. It was announced that the board also was to be informed that official action may be taken on an appointment, made some time ago at a closed meeting.

It was reported today that a committee of the P. T. A. and another committee of the city council will appear before the board in the matter of maintaining supervised playgrounds during the coming summer months. It is understood that the city is willing to bear a share of the expense if the school board is willing to do its part.

2 Damage Claims
Denied by Court

Superior Judge E. J. Marks yesterday denied the two claims for damages, aggregating approximately $25,500 brought by George M.
Heltz, and John Froslund against the Jameson Oil company, in Huntington Beach.

An automobile accident, which occurred January 29, 1925, at Main and Summit streets, Huntington Beach, was the basis of the two suits. Heltz sought $15,290.65 damages and Froslund sued for $10,- 177.25.

Judge Marks yesterday decided both cases in favor of the oil company. Attorney W. I. Gilbert, Los Angeles, appeared for the plaintiffs, with attorneys O. C. Sattling-er and Leroy M. Edwards, Los Angeles, conducting the defense.

Many old bath tubs which have served their time in city houses and

BURGLAR TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

Guadalupe Salcido, 19, believed to be the Orange county "bicycle burglar" and accused of robbing approximately 15 houses in the northern section of the county since the latter part of January, was taken into custody yesterday afternoon by deputy sheriffs.

The sheriff's office has announced the recovery of a considerable amount of loot, identified as that taken from homes robbed.

Dan Adams, deputy sheriff, has been working on the "bicycle burglar" case for several months.

On various occasions Adams has hidden in Orange groves throughout the night, waiting for the thief, but each time the man made his escape.

House Is Searched
Yesterday, Salcido is alleged to have entered the home of Robert Johnson, Villa Park, from which a number of small articles and clothing was taken. At the same time,
Adams and Deputy Sheriff George Bartley, of El Modena, were going through Salcido's house. They found several little articles identified as stolen, they said.

Salcido later appeared before Bartley and asked what the officers were doing at his house. He immediately was arrested.

Today, Salcido is alleged to have told officers that much of the loot he got from the homes he had cached in the Santiago creek bottom and the high waters of last week washed it away. If this is true, officers point out, it will be impossible to recover the goods.

The "bicycle burglar" derived his name through the fact that he rode to and from the houses that he robbed on a bicycle. Tracks of the wheel have been found in all the cases, according to officers, and each time the tracks were the same.
All led to El Modena.

15 Robberies Reported
The first house robbed by the "bicycle burglar" was that of Arthur Telloff, Olive, which was entered on January 22. Since that time there have been approximately 15 robberies reported, credited to the "bicycle burglar." Some of the homes entered were those of John Allen, Orange; Walter Paulus, Anaheim;
H. Bacon Hurst, Santa Ana; Route
No. 1; E. C. High, Villa Park; W.
W. Perkins, Villa Park; L. Henry
Chabonson, Orange; Henry C. Mc-Pherson; Roy Burrier, Orange; and Arthur Telloff, Olive.

Salcido has not yet been arraigned on a burglary charge, but was out of jail this morning, with Adams, who was making an effort to locate further property.

New Hauptmann
Play Has Two English Settings

BERLIN, April 13.—Dr. Gerhart
Hauptmann, world-famed author and Germany's leading playwright, has just completed a new drama,
"Dorothea Angermann," of which two acts have their setting in the United States.

Dr. Hauptmann has authorized the following statement to the United Press:
"As I am still engaged in polishing the rough edges of my new work, it is somewhat premature to discuss in detail the play's contents.
I may say, however, that it is by no means a coincidence that two acts of "Dorothea Angermann" are shifted across the ocean and played in a little New England town.
This setting coincides with the basic idea of the play."

"These two acts show that the careers of men, thwarted and frustrated in Europe, are completely crushed and ground to bits in America, insofar as these characters are incapable of adapting themselves to the swift rhythm and turbulent energy of American life."

An intimate friend of Dr. Hauptmann who has had an opportunity to hear the author read his play, declares that it describes, in startlingly original manner, the influence of the American spirit on various persons in the play, and thus raises an entirely new social and human problem.

Pretty Party Planned As Compliment to April Bride

ANSY shades in their rich colorings were chosen by Mrs. James F. Dunkin as the color motif for a delightfully planned shower given recently in compliment to Miss Prudence Macomber and her fiancé, Bruce E. Switzer, whose wedding will be an event of Wednesday, April 12.

Mrs. Dunkin welcomed her guests in her pleasant home, in the Tralle apartments, 311 South Main street, where a wealth of sweet peas in orchid tints, gave the necessary floral touch, while the pansy tints of her gown added charm to the scene.

A series of lively games made the evening hours fly and Miss Ethel Coffman, in a picture matching contest, carried off a prize, a Calendar of Salads, whose binding was in the prevailing orchid tints. The special feature of the evening was introduced when Miss Macomber was asked to guess the contents of various packages with no hint offered her of their nature. Her guesses were wild indeed, but reward for trying came in the many lovely gifts the packages disclosed.

As the evening waned, added interest was given by the arrival of a group of men, accompanying Mr. Switzer and their host, Mr. Dunkin. Not to be outdone in the matter of gifts, the men proceeded to shower the bridegroom elect with hosiery, assuring him that he needed trousseau gifts as well as his bride.

During the interval when Mrs. Dunkin was arranging her tables for a delectable little supper, the guests were asked to dress clothespins, and prizes were awarded Mr. and Mrs. George Shoebridge for producing the most clever costumes.

At the supper hour, the guests were seated at a table arranged in the form of the letter T and decked with sweet peas, lavender candles, and dainty nut-cups filled with salted nuts and wee bonbons in pansy tints. Place cards on which names were reversed, were caught in the folds of lavender umbrellas, suggesting the showery nature of the evening. A menu of chicken salad, wafers, coffee, loaves and heart shaped cakes was served.

Enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Dunkin, were the honor guests, Miss Macomber and Mr. Switzer, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Trimm, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Brim-Endine, Mr. and Mrs. William Wyckoff, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McConnell, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Swoasy, Mr. and Mrs. George Shoebridge, Mrs. Pearl Smalley, Mrs. Mary Tralle, Mrs. Mac Clelland, Mrs. Marie Fowler, the Misses Mabel Cole, Ethel Coffman and Esther Coffman.

Wedding Anniversary Gaily Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Elisele of 2218 Santiago street planned to spend their twentieth wedding anniversary quietly at home, but their many friends had other plans for them as Mr. and Mrs. Elisele learned last night when thirty self-invited guests appeared and proceeded to make themselves at home.

Following an evening of merry games refreshments were served, featuring a huge bridal cake upon which were a miniature bride and groom.

Before departing the Rev. Milford Tidball on behalf of those present presented the honorees with a beautiful set of dishes of the Richmond design.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gulick of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Granger of Hemet, Mr. and Mrs. Mannwarren of San Pedro and Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre of Orange.

FRIEND OF DAYS OF YORE IS SPEAKER BEFORE EBELL

Mrs. Lou V. Chapin of Hollywood, eloquent lecturer and political authority, was speaker at yesterday's meeting of the Ebell Society of the Santa Ana Valley. Mrs. Chapin's topic was "Today and Tomorrow" and she thrilled her hearers with descriptions of the big things in which women are taking an important part, the things which had their inception yesterday and which will throw their influence far into tomorrow.

As Mrs. Chapin is an old friend of Ebell in its yesterday, when she used to speak before it years ago at its meetings above a small grocery store, she complimented the organization heartily on what it has accomplished today, mentioning in her prelude the beautiful new clubhouse, touching upon the talk given by Mrs. Walter B. Tedford and showing what Ebell women have done in the work among juvenile delinquents, and in sponsoring the Day Nursery.

She then turned to the big things of the outside world, the things which were born yesterday and are the parents of today; the roots planted yesterday which are the stems of today. She stressed the fact that parents must be educated before children can be disciplined. Tolerance says: "Knowledge is power," and intolerance says: "Knowledge is poison." We have gone farther, she stated, in the last 100 years than in 100 centuries before.

Turning to the prohibition issue of the day, the speaker was vehement in her opposition to any modification or change in the Volstead law, and gave statistics to show that the United States is the better for the law. She asked the question as to whether laws against burglary should be done away with because robberies had been more frequent. She said that a straw vote from 2,000,000 people meant nothing, when 28,000,000 had not been heard from. She also touched upon the prison question and said there was need to study it. She scored "maudlin sympathy" for criminals, the leniency and venality of judges, the delays in trials and the actions of parole boards.

England and Italy were criticized for their attitude in calling Uncle Sam a Shylock, and Mrs. Chapin quoted figures to show how much the United States will lose in principal and interest before the war debts are paid. She also paid her respects to Mussolini, the Italian dictator, told some of the incidents of Arab history in their fights with the Turks and predicted a new Russo-Japanese war. In conclusion, the speaker stated that the part women can play in congress, expressing the sentiment that a nation which minds its own business and minds it well, keeping out of the quarrels of other nations, will never get into trouble.

Mrs. Tedford, representing the public affairs committee of Ebell, told the history of the juvenile court and home from its inception in a small way in 1909, when a case of two little girls, abandoned by their mother and with a drunken father, opened the eyes of the authorities.

The juvenile court was started that year, with J. H. Scott the first probation officer and Carey R. Smith, A. J. Visel, Mrs. W. M. Smart, Mrs. Ed Tedford, J. J. Zellman and Albert Sitton on the board. Mrs. Smart, Albert Sitton and A. J. Visel are still on the board.

The delinquent and dependent children have now been separated and Orange county has the reputation of being the only county in the state which has been able to put over a twenty-four hour school successfully. Monroe Sharpless and Mrs. Garland are the teachers. It is the plan to have a few cases as possible go to court and of 200 cases but 84 have gone to trial. And of 40 boys in the school, 36 have made good.

The state convention of the Federation of Women's clubs will be held in Riverside May 4 and the following delegates and alternates were elected: Mesdames James Willis Rice, J. R. Medlock, Sam W. Nau, W. D. Baker and Olive Lopez; Mrs. S. M. Davis, Minnie Holmes, Clarence Gustlin, G. R. Rayburn and A. G. Flagg.

For the county convention to be held at the Angelina hotel, Anaheim, April 23, the following delegates and alternates were elected: Mesdames J. A. Beall, Clara Wells, W. D. Baker, C. B.

Royer, J. E. Gowen, R. G. Tutthill, J. C. Clark, O. M. Robbins, A. W. Ames, C. C. Violet, E. M. Nealley, E. M. Blake, A. G. Flagg, E. B. Sprague and Miss Beulah May; Mesdames Joseph Marshall, Nona Cloyes, E. L. Morrison, Harwood Sharpe, O. S. Catland, Charles Briscoe, W. L. Delmiling, C. H. Stanley, P. F. Schrock, W. W. Anderson, Ralph Smedley, W. M. Smart, J. R. Bruff, E. D. White, L. M. Smith, Hugh Plumb, Dr. Evalene Peo, B. H. Sharpless, Miss Doris Robbins and Miss Sedalia Cubbison.

Among other matters of business mentioned was the donation of two army blankets to the open-air health camp, appropriation of $50 for the endowment fund, taking a membership in the California Conference of Social Work, the announcement of the May meeting to be held at Mrs. R. G. Tutthill's Laguna Beach cottage, the election of Mrs. L. A. Chenoweth to take the place of Mrs. Edward Walker on the board of directors, and the impending suspension of members for non-payment of dues.

J. R. Hunt, manager for the Orange County Community fair, asked for memberships and told of the progress already made, almost 100 per cent successful. He also explained the plans to have one day for clubwomen of the county and the plan of the directors to uplift the morale of the fair this year.

The Spring Market and Flower show committees announced this big event for April 22 and 23 in the clubhouse, telling of the many attractive features. The McAdams school of dancing, in which Ebell is interested, will open Tuesday, April 27, and the society will have a cake auction for the benefit of the Boy Scouts jamboree.

Bridge Luncheon Adds Interest and Charm To Social Whirl

DDING to the interest and gaiety of the post-Lenten season was the bridge luncheon of charming appointments which Mrs. Harold Nelson presented recently at her home on North Broadway with a group of young matrons of the social set as her guests. Colorful spring flowers were mingled in French effect to establish the lovely floral note of the small tables arranged with linens and china for the serving of luncheon preliminary to the afternoon of bridge. In greeting her guests and distributing the dainty score cards, Mrs. Nelson was assisted by Miss Louise Tubbs and Mrs. Fred Stever.

In the bridge contest, intriguing packages which contained first, second and consolation prizes, were presented Mrs. Don Andrews, Mrs. George Kenneth Scovel and Mrs. Burr Shafer. As the season advances, Mrs. Nelson expects to continue her entertaining, planning to present among other things, a large bridge tea in conjunction with a small hostess group. Among those who were extended the hospitality of her home at the informal function, were Mesdames Frederick Elsey, Harvey Gardner, Arnold Peak, M. A. Patton, Fred Stever, Bruce Monroe, Don Andrews, Frank Miller, Thomas Willis Jr., Horace B. Van Dien, James Livesey Jr., Frank Hammett, George Paul Jr., G. K. Scovel, G. J. Daley, Hubert Dale, Earl Morrow, Arthur May, Will and Nelson, Elmer Preston, Homer Robinson, John Ball, Dexter Ball, Paul Witman, Baxter Jovanat, Nelson Edgar, Emrys D. White, Charles Isaacson, Earl Abbey, Edward Hummel of Beverly Hills, Irwin Barnes of Anaheim, Miss Louise Tubbs and Miss Margaret White.

The April meeting of the John Muir P-T. A. will be held in the kindergarten room Tuesday afternoon, April 13, at 2:30 o'clock. Members are requested to be present as officers are to be elected and other important business matters discussed.

Riverside Couple Wed in This City

Motoring to this city in order to have their former pastor, the Rev. Logan Harter officiate at their marriage, Miss Edith C. Miller and Darrel W. Davenport of Riverside were wedded last Saturday at high noon, in the local United Brethren church where the Rev. Mr. Harter is pastor.

The young people were accompanied by Miss Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Miller and their daughters and by Mr. Davenport's parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Davenport and Joe Davenport, all of Riverside, and a number of other close relatives from both Riverside and Long Beach who met by pre-arrangement at the church parsonage.

The ceremony was an impressive one in which the Rev. Mr. Harter employed the single ring service. Appropriate music was played by Miss Elsie Harter at the organ. The church was beautifully decked with waxed lilacs and greenery forming an attractive background for the bridal party. Miss Miller chose a lovely frock of soft blue with picture hat to match.

Following the ceremony the new Mr. and Mrs. Davenport led the way to the home of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Thompson, 1813 North Baker street, where the wedding breakfast was served ere the young people departed on their honeymoon. After a happy ten days' trip they will return to Riverside to a pleasant apartment awaiting them on West Tenth street and Mr. Davenport will resume his duties in the confectionery business, which is his.

Writer Folk Enjoy Hearing Stories Read Aloud

HEN members of the Quill Pen club assembled last night at the home of Mrs. Blanche Brown and her mother, Mrs. Frank Small, it was to enjoy a group of short stories and verses read by their authors in accordance with the general plan of the club evenings.

Mrs. Joseph Vian, president of the club, Mrs. E. E. Boething and Mrs. Ida S. Marx held the close attention of all as they read original tales which were declared by the club members and critics to be marked by cleverness of plot and development. Mrs. Harry N. Smith, a newcomer to Quill Pen circles, delighted with some of the very charming verse she writes.

Late in the evening Mrs. Brown served light refreshments to clubmembers, Mesdames Joseph Vian, E. E. Boething, Ida F. Marx, Frank Was, Herman Reuter, F. T. Adams, R. A. Cushman, Arley Tapscott, Fred Conover, Harry N. Smith, and four guests, Mrs. Pauline Decker, Mrs. Gladys Thomas, Mrs. Earl Morris and Mrs. Small.

Dinner Party Honors Double Birthdays

A delightful dinner was given Sunday by Mrs. V. A. Shaw of 1069 West Fourth street, in honor of the birthday of her husband and also that of Harry Adams, Long Beach. The dessert course included a beautiful birthday cake alight with candles. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Harry Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Clint Ballard, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Davis, all of Long Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. Shaw, the hosts.

Because Every Third Washing Machine Buyer Wants a Maytag, California Gets a Solid Trainload

When you realize that nearly one-third of all the washing machines sold today are Maytags, you understand why California must buy these wonder washers by the trainload. And when you know the exclusive advantages of the Maytag—the faster, cleaner, easier, more thorough washing which no other machine gives—you realize why it is that more women prefer the Maytag than any other machine.

Easier, Faster, Cleaner Washing

Whole tubfuls in 3 to 7 minutes. The grimmest work clothes, the dirtiest play clothes in 10 minutes. A whole family washing, 50 pounds (dry weight) in an hour. All with a gentleness and thoroughness unmatched by the most careful human hands.

Self Cleaning, Aluminum Tub

The satin-smooth, "machinery free" tub, without seams, corners or crevices to harm delicate fabrics, cleans itself in 30 seconds after a washing is done. Adjustable legs permit lowering and raising the Maytag tub to suit your height.

Collar and Cuff Bands Clean Without Rubbing

No hard rubbing follows a Maytag washing. Collars, cuffs and wrist bands come out spotlessly clean without destructive scrubbing, dragging or pounding.

Phone the Nearest Maytag Dealer for a Free Trial

Let him send a Maytag to your home to do a weeks washing free and without obligation. Do as big a washing as you please. Wash everything you want. Then you will see for yourself the Maytag's many exclusive advantages. You'll not be urged to buy. If the Maytag doesn't sell itself, don't keep it.

Buy your Maytag from the authorized dealers listed below--the only dealers who can give you genuine service with genuine parts, backed by the factory--and be sure it bears the name Maytag.

CHAMBERS WILL OPPOSE MOVE OF L. A. TO GET FARM SCHOOL

City Representatives Will Hold Conference on Subject in San Bernardino

INVITATION TO MEET RECEIVED BY RAYMER

Effort Being Made to Buy Soldiers' Home Property For Agriculture College

That the chambers of commerce of San Bernardino and Riverside counties will oppose location of an agricultural college in Los Angeles, as part of the southern branch of the state university, was revealed here today by receipt of an invitation by George Raymer, secretary of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, to send two or three delegates to a conference of representatives of chambers of commerce and other organizations of the Southland to a meeting to be held Friday, at 1:30 p. m., at the San Bernardino Chamber of Commerce.

Signed by the presidents of the chambers of commerce in San Bernardino and Riverside and the fifth district California Congress of Mother and Parent-Teacher associations, the communication to Raymer reads as follows:

"Your county took an active part in and was represented on the agricultural committee for a farm school and agricultural activity for Southern California, which was instituted by the P.-T. A. of San Bernardino county about 1916.

"The legislature of 1919-21, after a very thorough investigation, purchased 300 acres of land, with excellent water right, in Riverside, and this purchase was recommended by all the public organization actively interested in agricultural work in the southern end of the state, all of which will be presented at the contemplated meeting herein called.

"The southern branch of the state university recently has been located near Sawtelle and, contrary to the recommendations and agreements heretofore made, a movement is under way to purchase 160 acres of the Sawtelle soldiers' home, on which to locate the agricultural activities already located by an act of the legislature in Riverside.

"Inasmuch as this institution belongs to the southern counties and its location was approved by the public bodies of your county, it is proper for the chambers of commerce of San Bernardino, as the county originating the idea, and of Riverside, as the place of location, to join in a call for a public meeting of representatives of all interested organizations.

"You are, therefore, urged to send two or three representatives, who are well informed on agricultural matters, and preferably those who have had a part in or knowledge of previous activity in this connection, to attend a meeting at the San Bernardino Chamber of Commerce on Friday, April 16, at 1:30 p. m."

HOTEL MAN WOULD KNOW WHY SANTA ANA DOESN'T SEEK TOURIST BUSINESS

Is the fair city of Santa Ana too proud to attract visitors? Or is the seat of the richest county in the United States in per capita wealth, produced within its geographical limits, too well satisfied with conditions as they are to cultivate travel patronage? While Santa Ana might take a pardonable pride in the fact that she is one of the few Southern California cities to remain immune to the "booster" fever and its attendant ills, is it good business to pursue much longer this "let well enough alone" policy?

These are some of the pertinent questions that are being asked by Earl Busby, operating Hotel Santa Ana. Before coming here about three years ago Busby was engaged in the hotel business in Santa Barbara for a number of years. Prior to that time, he was connected with the advertising and publicity end of several nationally known amusement enterprises.

No Bid for Tourists Commenting on the situation, he called attention to the fact that, while almost every other community which has anything to offer in way of scenic beauty, is making a bid for tourists and motor travel, Santa Ana is adopting a "don't care" attitude.

Enumerating some of the attractions offered by nearby cities, he cited the wide publicity given the various San Diego attractions, the advertising given the Pasadena Rose tournament, the fuss made about the San Bernardino Orange show, which could as well have been made a local event.

San Gabriel has its Mission play and Riverside its Easter morning services which draw tens of thousands of visitors, he remarked. Venice has appropriated the "bathing girls' parade" and in the matter of fairs, Pomona has taken the lead. And now comes Santa Barbara, still suffering from the effect of the earthquake, with plans for a big Spanish fiesta, designated to attract thousands of visitors to the channel city.

Advantages of Santa Ana

None of these places can surpass Santa Ana for scenic beauty and natural attractions, the hotel man declared, not to mention its advantageous location in the center of the Southland, on the main highway between Los Angeles and San Diego, and close enough to the sea and the mountains.

Speaking further, Busby suggested that the chamber of commerce look into the advisability and feasibility of staging an old-time Spanish fiesta, making it an annual event. In line with this proposal, he further suggested that it be made a whole-week affair, during which the entire city would be dressed up for the occasion. To supply the necessary atmosphere, men and women would be dressed in Spanish costumes; strolling musicians would meet the Beauty and the Beast in the Plaza de Armas; and the Santa Fe trains as they brought in loads of visitors. In addition to a general carnival spirit, there would be a daily program of entertainments, including parades, street dancing, stunt flying, and other forms of amusements.

SAVING OF WATER TO BE INSPECTED

The Water Conservation association will make a trip of inspection of water conservation Saturday, April 17, leaving the office of the Riverside Water company at 9:30, or assembling at the camp of the association at 10:30 a. m.

The recent heavy rains have resulted in generous runoff and the works of the conservation association are working to their utmost capacity. There still is water running to waste.

All who are interested in this important project cordially are invited to join the party, bringing picnic lunch. The association will furnish hot beans and coffee.

CLUB HEARS OF CYCLE TOUR IN RURAL ENGLAND

By OLIVE LOPEZ

Kindness and courtesy were the magic words making the open sesame for a charming bicycle trip described at yesterday's luncheon of the Business and Professional Women's club by Miss Verna Peterson, who recently returned from a visit to England.

Many miles over England's countryside were covered by the three girl travelers, their bicycles making an easy method of seeing the adorable hedge rows and picturesque little inns, smelling the sweet clover and eating the strawberries and clotted cream, meantime seeing the old cathedrals and historic castles, and the homes and haunts of kings, poets and artists.

Beer and Skittles

Having read of "beer and skittles," the cyclists were most anxious to "taste" them, but found upon arrival at a quaint village, that skittles was a game resembling nine pins, which they played, but did not accompany the sport with the drinking of beer from the mugs.

Miss Peterson described the old cathedral at Wells, where the stroke of the clock brings knights a horseback scurrying for a race and the white swans to the lake bank for a feeding. She told of Glastonbury, unique in the history of Christendom, where religion has never languished and where the thorn stick of Joseph of Arimathea bloomed. The chalice holding some of the blood of Christ is buried at its foot, states Miss Peterson, and the chalice well never runs dry. Although the country has been stricken with drought, the well has supplied water for the surrounding territory.

Worship at Shrine

At Canterbury, they worshipped at the shrine of Thomas a Beckett and saw the old St. Nicholas church, the church of the lepers. They traversed the old stone road, built by the Romans. Added to the pleasures of yesterday's luncheon, which was largely attended, was the report made by Dr. Estelle Workman of her visit to the Business and Professional Women's headquarters at Fresno, where she saw the historic flag presented to the club by Mrs. Amy Jenkins, a nurse member, who was in London when the flag was raised above all others on Armistice day, Nov. 11, 1918. Mrs. Jenkins was with the Red Cross and, when the flag was lowered, it was presented to her.

Miss Lennie Lasby will give her last lecture to club members on international relations next Thursday evening, at the Y. W. C. A. rooms.

Smile Lures Man To Robbers' Den

"When I got inside, a sailor and another fellow pounced on me and took $90 away from me," he said.

MANY FORCED FROM HOME BY FLOOD RETURN

Folk Living Near Creeks Swollen by Heavy Rains Go Back to Their Cabins

Swollen creeks in Silverado, Santiago and Black Star canyons, filled to their banks by the recent rains, have subsided sufficiently to allow several cabin owners in that section to return to their homes, after having been marooned for several days by the conditions brought about about by the storm.

This information was given today by Mrs. Robert Shaw, wife of the fire warden at Santiago.

Conger Thomson, of Villa Park, had a particularly thrilling experience, it was revealed. In order to reach his home, it was necessary to cross Santiago creek. Thomson ran his car into the stream, where it stalled. By dint of a great effort, during which Thomson swam, waded and crawled, he was able to reach shore, exhausted but mighty happy to escape a grave in the muddy, tumbling mountain torrent.

His machine was carried down stream, swirled around and around and finally left, a battered wreck, against an island of driftwood.

During the storm several scores of persons marooned in cabins watched their food in their larders disappear and thought long and hard on the question of whether the remaining victuals would be sufficient to sustain strength until the creek had subsided and retreat to the outside world made possible, it was said.

The full extent of the storm was shown by Mrs. J. E. Pleasant, wife of J. E. Pleasant, well known Orange county pioneer. In riding her horse to the home of Robert Shaw, she was forced to cross several streams, which were running full to the banks. Nine inches of rain fell at her home during the storm, she said, and at the Schultz ranch the fall was more than 10 inches.

Mrs. Pleasant said that, at the Black Star canyon crossing, the water had divided into two streams. One of these channels is the one on the bottom of which the county two years ago constructed a concrete slab.

TOASTMASTERS TO DEBATE PROHIBITION

The question of prohibition will be debated Wednesday night at the meeting of the Toastmasters' club, at the Y.M.C.A. The subject, as stated, reads: "Is Prohibition a Failure?"

C. E. Camm and Will S. Kellogg have been selected to say "yes" to the question and attempt to prove their contention. Robert C. Horn and C. N. Grace will take the opposing side. L. W. Archer, H. W. McAlenean, C. E. Bressler and F. C. Westgate also will give a toast to his native state. M. B. Youel is slated to act as toastmaster.

Plans are under way for a big social event by the Toastmasters' club on April 28, when "ladies' night" will be held. All former members of the club will be invited to attend to make the evening a regular reunion of the spellbinders, who have gained training in oratory in the work of the club.

Hogson to Speak At Center Meeting

R. W. Hogson, professor of sub-tropical horticulture, University of California, will be one of the principal speakers at the Villa Park-Olive farm center which will meet at Olive, Wednesday evening, April 14. His talk on Florida citriculture will be illustrated by a reception of views taken during his recent visit there. He will be followed by Carl V. Newman, manager of the San Joaquin ranch, who will discuss California farm management problems. An invitation is extended to the general public and a special invitation to the El Modena members.

ORPHEO TROUPE IS TO APPEAR IN ESCONDIDO

The name of the Santa Ana Junior college was carried as far as Escondido today by the "Orpheo Troupe" in making the longest trip on the year's itinerary.

Students who take part in the program left this morning to meet their engagement to appear before the San Juan Capistrano high school assembly, and from there continue to Escondido, where they were to entertain at a Rotary club meeting.

During the spring, the "Orpheo Troupe" of the college regularly schedules "better educational programs" at school assemblies and luncheon clubs, principally in Orange county.

Arranged on the program for today's appearance were speeches by John McCoy and Lyle Cook on phases of college education. Principal D. K. Hammond was to give a survey of the junior college movement in the United States. Other numbers included readings by Miss Louane Leech, violin selections by Miss Georgia Belle Walker, and piano selections by Miss Esther Walker.

Plan Visit To Spreading Area Of River Work

A pilgrimage to inspect the water spreading grounds of the Water Conservation association on the headwaters of the Santa Ana river is being planned for Saturday, April 17. "The roads are in shape and a splendid demonstration of the operations is going on now and it is stated that this is the best time of the year to visit the grounds," said A. M. Stanley, secretary-manager of the Orange county farm bureau.

Co-operating with the Water Conservation association the Orange County Farm Bureau has issued an invitation to all of its members to make the trip. The Orange county delegation will be met at the office of the Riverside Water company at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning and proceed from there to the camp of the Water Conservation association. Those who arrive late may meet the party at the camp at 10:30 o'clock. It is suggested that each party bring their own picnic lunch which the association will augment by serving coffee and beans.

This will not only be a splendid outing but will provide an educational trip which should not be missed by Orange county people.

Committee Quarters Pre-Squared Circle of Boxing Ring

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The legend of Tantalus stooping for the drink that recedes from his lips, reaching for the grapes beyond his fingertips possibly the senate drys had this ancient myth in mind when they granted a hearing on proposed wet legislation.

Because, unless Senator Jim Reed is able to accomplish what now seems impossible, the senate committee will merely tantalize Tantalus—light wine and beer will be kept just out of reach.

The very stage setting is a provocation to memories of days not so dry. The marble and plaster walls of the chamber are the pale green of abstinence. The crimson rug suggests nothing so much as vin rouge. The hangings at the windows are the deep richness of old port. The carved frame around the big mantle-piece mirror is the gold of piller or champagne.

Leaving a table with a mahogany of the committee table, with a big mirror back of them, are five ruddy servants of the people. Senator Reed, however, is the only one who has any disposition to greet thirsty customers with, "Well, gent, what'll you have?"

Altering the figure, the senate committee room presents the square circle of a boxing ring. At the far side of the square sits the committee, as referee and representative of the house management. The press is at ringside tables to right and left. The batters swap punches in the center. On the fourth side, pressing close and packed tight, are the spectators.

The fighters with their seconds and rubbers group around the ring. For the wets there are Captain Stayton, of the Anti-Prohibition association; Colonel Codman, the polite Bostonian, chief counsel; the patriarchal Hudson Maxim and the capitol group, Senators Edge, Bruce and Edwards and Congressman John Philip Hill. For the drys, Wayne B. Wheeler, Bishop James Cannon Jr., Deets Pickett, General Andrews and Prohibition Director James E. Jones.

Interesting is the party lineup of the committee. The Republican majority furnishes the somber weight—the rather irritable chairman, Means, the judicial-looking Harrell and the nervous, eloquent Goff. The educated mule was specially trained by Marcelle, English pan-tomimist. This mule is only 24 inches tall and weighs but 140 pounds. The mule makes its appearance and works for 15 minutes without prompter or director.

Miss Compton, woman rider, is only 18 years of age. Her reputation is established not only as a rider of wild horses, but as a bareback rider as well. Miss Compton is the featured star with the Dutton circus.

Revival Meetings To Be Held In S. A.

Rev. I. M. Ellis, evangelist, will conduct a series of revival meetings in Santa Ana, at the Nazarene church, corner of Fifth and Barton streets, the first service to be held tomorrow evening, beginning at 7:30 p. m., according to announcement today by the pastor of the Nazarene church, Rev. E. M. Hutchens. No meetings will be held Saturday. The campaign will conclude on the evening of April 25. A morning service will be held daily at 10 o'clock. On Sunday, three services will be held, at 11 a. m., 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. An all-day meeting will be held Thursday, April 22. The services will be featured by special music and congregational singing.

Burglars Leave With Empty Hands

Burglars who entered the home of Mrs. E. Craemer, 338 North Olive street, last evening, left without taking anything of value, according to a report to police by Mrs. Craemer. Officer Charles Wallace, who investigated, found that the thieves had ransacked the house in their search for plunder. Entrance was gained by cutting a rear screen door.

BENEFIT SHOW WILL BE HELD BY S. A. SCOTS

A society circus, a novelty in Santa Ana, has been arranged for by Santa Ana Pyramid, No. 41, of Scots and will be presented throughout the week beginning Tuesday, April 20, under the sponsorship of that organization.

A total of 18 high class acts will be given under the personal direction of James Dutton, well known circus manager. The big top will be pitched at Second and French streets, Santa Ana. One performance will be given each evening and on Saturday afternoon, a matinee will be held.

Among the presentations will be the Young aerial act, with the clown band, a big band act, an equestrian act, five pure bred white Arabian steeds and an educated mule act.

The Young troupe works at the top of the tent without the use of a safety net. The act has just come from the vaudeville stage and has been seen in the New York hippodrome.

Nellie Jordan is the diamond medal holder for being America's most beautifully formed woman.

The clown band is composed of well trained musicians as well as competent clowns. The organization is capable of giving a high class concert with unique comedy stunts.

The Arabian steed act is quite different from that usually seen. The educated mule was specially trained by Marcelle, English pan-tomimist. This mule is only 24 inches tall and weighs but 140 pounds. The mule makes its appearance and works for 15 minutes without prompter or director.

Miss Compton, woman rider, is only 18 years of age. Her reputation is established not only as a rider of wild horses, but as a bareback rider as well. Miss Compton is the featured star with the Dutton circus.

The proceeds of the circus will go to the Foundation fund for the Convalescent Home for Children.

Youths Are Fined On Fight Charge

Two youths, one a Mexican, the other an American, were fined $25 each in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court early today on a breach of the peace charge. They are alleged to have fought over a girl at a Mexican dance hall, in Delhi, last Sunday night. The arrests were made by Jack Combs, deputy sheriff, who was on duty at the dance at the time. Neither of the boys had paid their fines at noon today.

"Purges" and "Physics" Bad for Old Folks

While Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, knew that constipation was the curse of advancing age, he did not believe that a "purge" or "physic" every little while was necessary. To him, it seemed cruel that so many constipated old people had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to "regulate" the bowels of the old folks. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement, but each dose helps to strengthen the bowel muscles, shortly establishing natural "regularity." It never cripes, sickens, or upsets the system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. If past fifty, buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine and just see for yourself.

Stage and Screen

Ray and Edna Tracy, noted dancers, who are featured on the vaudeville program opening at the Yost theater tonight.

WEST COAST-WALKER
Aflame with the fire of youthful revolt, "Sandy," the modern flapper whose story has been followed with avidity by millions of readers, now appears on the screen. The film version of this celebrated novel of an up-to-the-minute girl closes tonight at the West Coast-Walker theater.

Here at last is the daughter of 1926 dramatized as she has never been before. This is no plain "flapper movie" such as has been administered to the film-going public in over-doses during the past few seasons. "Sandy" stands by itself as a true and highly dramatic character drawing of the present day girl who has cast the conventions that governed the behavior of her mother and who is living life to the fullest, adhering to the philosophy that today is here, tomorrow never comes.

Madge Bellamy, is the unforgettable Sandy. She typifies her as no other actress could. She is alive, vibrant, full of the joy of living—just as the author has described this interesting young girl of her literary inspiration. Madge Bellamy is ably supported by Harrison Ford, Leslie Fenton, Bardson Bard, and other celebrated actors.

The West Coast presentation, a Fanchon and Marco "Specialty

"Idea" offers a lot of entertainment. The hit of the show is Way Watts and his ukulele, who has never yet failed to stop the show. He is probably the most popular radio entertainer in the south, being heard from KFI. He has a wonderful personality and plays and sings some new hits that are not so dusty. Mac Curry and Betty are two fast steppers that are knock-outs. McCabe and Robertson, the winners of third prize in the Examiner Charleston contest are also featured. Dorothy Crooker offers her idea of the popular waltz hit "Always," and Aimee Way, a popular soprano, sings some songs.

YOST THEATER
Lester, who is coming to the Yost theater tonight, has been tramp, stowaway, circus man, clown, sailor, magician, fire-eater, snake charmer, mind reader, balloon jumper, sword swallower and what have you. He has been on the Orpheum circuit for almost 20 years.

The ordinary ventriloquist of the stage dodges words that have the letters m, p, b, q and v, because those letters can only be spoken by them with the lips and if they have to use a word with m in it they pronounce it "eng," and f is "eth" and p is "thee."

But Lester revels in words containing those letters. He can hold his mouth grape and with his throat muscles pronounce m, p, b, f and v as correctly and as distinctly as if he used his lips.

The Yoki Japs; two pretty and talented girls and a clever young man will offer a combination of bicycle riding, ladder walking and a few bits of magic. A particularly noticeable feature in the offering will be the mysterious thumb trick. This is supposed to be the most baffling feat of deception done on the stage.

The telephone company, and probably without exaggeration, claims that there are several million people talking on a wire. Nevertheless Jimmy Wire is in a class by himself. This talker on the wire is there physically as well as vocally. Wire is an expert gymnast specializing in wire work.

A well dressed originality, consisting of songs and dances, accomplished with an ease and elegance which bespeaks their theatrical skill and knowledge, will be the offering of Ray and Edna Tracy. The Dion sisters are four charmingly attractive young women, with a most excellent musical offering, whose regal beauty, dominating personality and splendid singing voices will captivate any audience. They are known as "The Texas Blue Girls" and they have an act that will be most appreciatively received and thoroughly enjoyed by all lovers of real harmony singing, exceptional dancing and musical bits.

WEST END THEATER
If you're looking for something refreshingly different in motion pictures, you'll welcome "Soft Shoes." Harry Carey's latest production which is showing at the West End theater.

Hunt Stromberg, the producer, has cleverly combined a tale of the "open spaces" and a story of the underworld of San Francisco and the result is one of the finest photoplays we have ever seen.

This comedy-melodrama concerns a sheriff of a small western town who inherits a fortune and decides to see San Francisco's brilliant night life. The hectic hilarity, however, leaves him somewhat cold and he has about decided to go back home when his apartment is invaded at midnight by a pretty "burglar" armed with an honest-to-goodness automatic. This convinces him that he has a lot to learn about San Francisco—an ancient warden settles right down in the heart of the lawless underworld to learn it—and we'll say he does.

Beautiful Lillian Rich handles the leading feminine role very cleverly and the notable supporting cast marks the return of two screen favorites—Francis Ford, the famous villain of the old "Broken Coin" serial, and Harriet Hammond, the erstwhile bathing beauty. So-Jin, the Japanese actor of "Thief of Bagdad" fame, Paul Weigel, Stanton Heck, Jimmie Quinn, John Stepping and Majel Coleman are also in the cast of this glowing action drama.

FRESNO IS READY FOR RAISIN FETE

FRESNO, April 13.—Fresno is in gala array for its annual Raisin Day festival, on Thursday, which is expected to attract at least 100,000 persons from the valley and other parts of the state.

Many thousands of dollars have been expended for floats and other displays, which will comprise a "Pageant of Gold," several miles long, which is the morning festival attraction.

In the afternoon, a series of speedway automobile and motorcycle races will be conducted. De Poid, Cooper and Bennett Hill will be three of the leading auto racers to participate.

During this entire week, Sun Maid raisins are prominently featured on menus on all parts of the world.

Orange De Molay Dance Postponed

ORANGE, April 13.—Postponement of the De Molay dance, scheduled for Wednesday evening in Silverado canyon, was the principal business transacted at the De Molay meeting last night, according to N. M. Jones, advisor. The dance will be held in two weeks, according to present plans. Because of the absence of Conger Thompson, of advisory committee, the cabin planned for Silverado canyon has not been completed. It is expected that some action will be taken soon towards getting it under way.

Edison Stock and the Personal Property Tax

FOR the information of the 85,000 stockholders of the Southern California Edison Company.

"Stocks of Corporations whose property is wholly situated in California" are exempt from the California Personal Property Tax.

The properties of the Southern California Edison Company being wholly in the State of California it is not necessary for any stockholder to declare his holdings of Edison Stock, Preferred or Common, to any deputy assessor.

The reason the stockholder is not taxed is that the Company itself pays the tax. In 1925 the Company paid the State of California 7 1/2% of its 1924 gross earnings, or $1,566,805.02. The total State and Federal Taxes paid in 1925 by the Company were approximately $2,000,000.00

By the company paying these taxes directly to the State, the stockholder is relieved of paying any State, County or Municipal tax on his Edison Stock.

JUVENILE BOOK LIKES LISTED IN PAMPHLET

"Books That Boys and Girls Like" is the title of a pamphlet to be found in the city library. And beneath the title is printed "Fifth and Sixth Grades," which means that the particular books mentioned in the pamphlet would be especially liked by boys and girls in the fifth and sixth grades.

These pamphlets have been compiled by Miss Jeanette McFadden, city librarian, and as soon as possible she will prepare similar pamphlets for boys and girls in the third and fourth and seventh and eighth grades.

Among the books mentioned are "Polly Put the Kettle On," by Jane Abbott; "Under the Lilacs," by L. M. Alcott; "Arabian Nights," by Hans Anderson; "Little Lord Fauntleroy," F. H. Burnett; "Robinson Crusoe," David Defoe; "Something to Do, Boys," and "Something to Do, Girls," E. A. Foster; "Just So Stories," Rudyard Kipling; "Biography of a Grizzly," E. F. Seton; "Prince and the Pauper," Mark Twain; and "Swiss Family Robinson," J. D. Wyss.

The list of books not only is for children, but for the parents who take an active interest in what their children read, Miss McFadden said.

MAN RELEASED FOR LACK OF EVIDENCE

Gaudalpe Grajeda, Mexican, charged with attempting to aid in the escape of a person wanted on a felony charge, was dismissed in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court today, for lack of evidence.

The man was arrested on April 8, when deputy sheriffs arrested Rafael Grajeda, wanted here on a burglary charge. Rafael Grajeda escaped from the tuberculosis ward in the county hospital last November.

Rafael Grajeda is being held to answer to the superior court on the burglary charge.

SCARE ADVERTISING METHODS EXPLAINED BY DANA JONES IN TALK BEFORE JUNIOR CHAMBER

Orange county pioneers will be guests of the junior division of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce at the next meeting of the organization, to be held the night of April 27, according to a decision made by the members in regular session last night, in Ketter's cafe. Charles Swanner was named chairman of the committee to arrange the details for the meeting.

The principal address last night was delivered by Dana Jones, secretary of the Los Angeles Rotary club and advertising counselor. In speaking on the subject, "Profits of Fear," Jones pointed out that more and more advertising writers are depending upon the scare method of making their appeal from the printed page. He illustrated his theory by reading advertisements for dental cream, deodorants, halitosis preventives, courses in grammar, etc. The fear theory, according to Jones, is not a late development of an old time advertising style, revived by advertising men either too lazy or too unethical to devise other means of selling goods.

Jones' Talk Interesting

The speech by Jones was interesting to the junior chamber members. At the conclusion of it, L. R. Crawford remarked that it was the finest dissertation of the kind he ever had heard on that particular subject.

Miss Katherine Pierce and Miss Leonora Fernandez gave two song and dance numbers, being accompanied on the piano by Miss Lola Skaggs. The girls were loudly applauded.

So well did the members enjoy the two violin numbers played by Miss Georgia Bell Walton that she was required to play an encore. Her sister, Miss Rafael Walton, provided the piano accompaniment. William Croddy was chairman of the entertainment committee. He was assisted by Robert Fernandez, Dr. J. L. Wehrly and A. C. Honer.

City Attorney Z. B. West Jr. spoke briefly concerning the importance of approving the $250,000 bond issue, which probably will be submitted to the voters of Santa Ana May 19. A two-thirds majority will be required for the approval of the bond issue, he said. A majority only will be required for the approval of the tax levy for the creation of the entertainment and publicity fund, according to the city attorney. As far as the approval of the bonds for the extension of the outfall sewer is concerned, West declared that if the voters did not approve the expenditure, the state would require the formation of an assessment district, with bonds to run 10 years, a much more expensive plan than if the city were to issue the bonds to run for 40 years.

City Assessor Plan

West also recommended that the city assessor plan be put back into practice, which, he declared, could be done by the repeal of the ordinance which gives the county the right to collect the city's taxes. More money must be collected for the administration of the municipal government and the city assessor plan is the only logical means of bringing about the increase in funds, in the opinion of the city attorney.

On his suggestion, the members voted to appoint a committee to investigate the city assessor plan very carefully and to report back to the booster body.

President Mason Youd called attention to the five-day membership campaign, planned by the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce and called for the support of the junior division members in the effort. George Raymer, secretary of the combined organization, was assured that the young men of the junior division would render hearty co-operation.

The trade trip, which the junior division plans to make in May, was discussed briefly. President Youd said that it was the hope of the junior chamber officials to have 100 cars in line. Roy Lyon, chairman of the decoration committee, exhibited several examples of paraphernalia with which the members will bedeck themselves for the junket.

Playgrounds Discussed

When the subject of parks and playgrounds was brought up, a number of members made remarks, including John C. Winterburn, Walter Scott, L. W. Archer and others. Each of the speakers endorsed the project and gave reasons why the proposition should be approved by the voters.

Henry Walker called attention to the fact that the road sign, pointing the way to San Diego, had been posted on the furthest corner from tourists entering the city from Main street. Frequently, motorists are forced to drive over to the southeast corner, against the traffic, to see this sign, he continued. The matter was referred to a special committee.

Dean Collier was named chairman of a committee to arrange for a meeting at which the Santa Ana young men of high school and junior college will be guests of the organization. The meeting probably will be held early in May.

At the suggestion of William Iverson, nominations were made for two delegates to represent the body at the Associated Chambers of

YOUNG SCORES RICHARDSON IN INITIAL SPEECH

PASADENA, April 13.—L. G. Gov. C. C. Young has launched his campaign for the Republican nomination for governor.

Speaking at a dinner at the University club here last night, Young announced the main issues of his campaign.

He pledged his complete support to the Boulder canyon dam project, the conservation of California's water resources and redistribution of the tax burden for the state.

Young also denounced the present administration.

"Gov. Friend W. Richardson pledged in his campaign four years ago that he would reduce the expenditures of the state. He said he would cut $15,000,000 from those expenditures in four years. Instead, the expenses of the state have been increased $125,000,000," Young declared.

Governor Richardson has also failed to support the Boulder canyon dam project," Young added.

The gubernatorial candidate was promised the support of 100,000 progressives in Southern California by Lew Head, state chairman of the progressive party.

COUNCIL TOLD OF DANGERS IN RABBIT RAISING

A developing industry in Santa Ana has potentialities as a trouble maker for the city authorities, in the opinion of Dr. V. G. Presson, city and county health officer, as expressed at last night's meeting of the city council.

The raising of fur rabbits is the possible source of annoyance to the city fathers—and the annoyance, if it comes, will be in the way of controlling rabbit raising at city homes.

Declaring that he did not wish to be classed as a pessimist, or to be considered as throwing an obstacle in the way of what might become an asset to the community, the health officer said that he could see trouble ahead if any considerable portion of residents should engage in raising the fur bearers in back yards.

Dr. Presson wanted to know how the situation should be handled, when it develops, and suggested that preparations should be made in advance to meet the conditions.

The council authorized the city clerk and city engineer to make investigations as to how the problem is handled in other cities and the planning commission was requested to establish a zone in which the fur bearers could be raised.

The health man was certain that large pens would become nuisances and a menace to health and anticipated that complaints from neighbors would result.

An ordinance, governing the harboring of animals on city lots, provides that a rabbit pen must not be nearer than 75 feet to a residence.

Installation of a larger water main on South Main street to Edinger and several blocks west on Edinger will precede the laying of new pavement on Main, from First street south to Edinger, under action taken by the council in authorizing Walter Wray, water superintendent, to make the installation.

The water superintendent pointed out that the larger main was necessary to give better service in the south section and to offer more fire protection. The new main also will make it possible to give better service in the territory in the south-west, recently annexed to the city.

Plans of the water superintendent contemplate the installation of fire hydrants at each corner along the route on which the bigger main is to be placed.

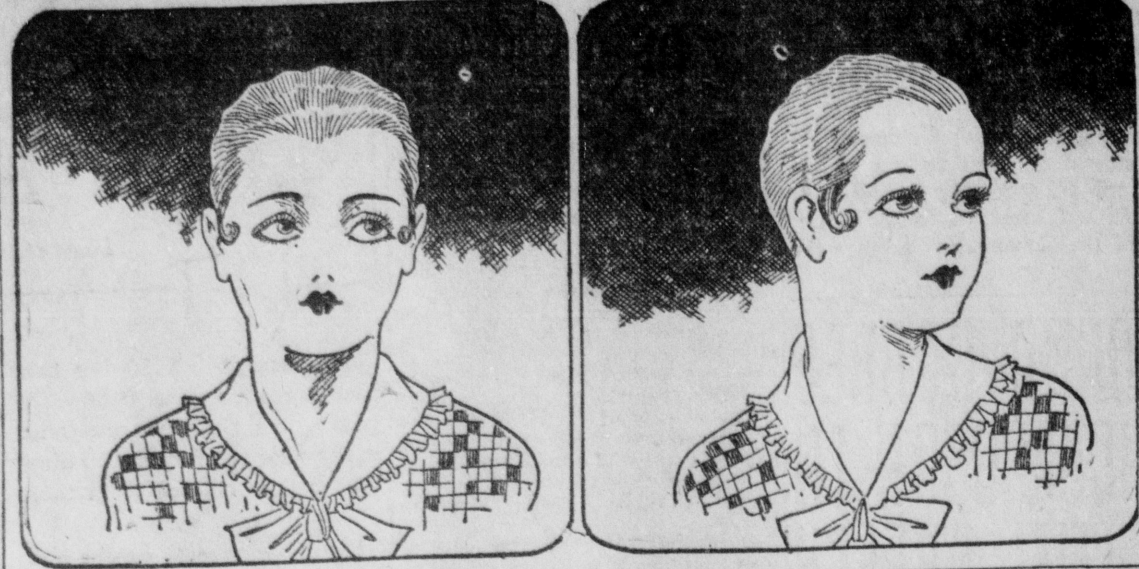

It was estimated that the improvement will cost $11,000. In preparation for the new main, the city clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for the pipe, 6, 8, 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52, 54, 56, 58, 60, 62, 64, 66, 68, 70, 72, 74, 76, 78, 80, 82, 84, 86, 88, 90, 92, 94, 96, 98, 100, 102, 104, 106, 108, 110, 112, 114, 116, 118, 120, 122, 124, 126, 128, 130, 132, 134, 136, 138, 140, 142, 144, 146, 148, 150, 152, 154, 156, 158, 160, 162, 164, 166, 168, 170, 172, 174, 176, 178, 180, 182, 184, 186, 188, 190, 192, 194, 196, 198, 200, 202, 204, 206, 208, 210, 212, 214, 216, 218, 220, 222, 224, 226, 228, 230, 232, 234, 236, 238, 240, 242, 244, 246, 248, 250, 252, 254, 256, 258, 260, 262, 264, 266, 268, 270, 272, 274, 276, 278, 280, 282, 284, 286, 288, 290, 292, 294, 296, 298, 300, 302, 304, 306, 308, 310, 312, 314, 316, 318, 320, 322, 324, 326, 328, 330, 332, 334, 336, 338, 340, 342, 344, 346, 348, 350, 352, 354, 356, 358, 360, 362, 364, 366, 368, 370, 372, 374, 376, 378, 380, 382, 384, 386, 388, 390, 392, 394, 396, 398, 400, 402, 404, 406, 408, 410, 412, 414, 416, 418, 420, 422, 424, 426, 428, 430, 432, 434, 436, 438, 440, 442, 444, 446, 448, 450, 452, 454, 456, 458, 460, 462, 464, 466, 468, 470, 472, 474, 476, 478, 480, 482, 484, 486, 488, 490, 492, 494, 496, 498, 500, 502, 504, 506, 508, 510, 512, 514, 516, 518, 520, 522, 524, 526, 528, 530, 532, 534, 536, 538, 540, 542, 544, 546, 548, 550, 552, 554, 556, 558, 560, 562, 564, 566, 568, 570, 572, 574, 576, 578, 580, 582, 584, 586, 588, 590, 592, 594, 596, 598, 600, 602, 604, 606, 608, 610, 612, 614, 616, 618, 620, 622, 624, 626, 628, 630, 632, 634, 636, 638, 640, 642, 644, 646, 648, 650, 652, 654, 656, 658, 660, 662, 664, 666, 668, 670, 672, 674, 676, 678, 680, 682, 684, 686, 688, 690, 692, 694, 696, 698, 700, 702, 704, 706, 708, 710, 712, 714, 716, 718, 720, 722, 724, 726, 728, 730, 732, 734, 736, 738, 740, 742, 744, 746, 748, 750, 752, 754, 756, 758, 760, 762, 764, 766, 768, 770, 772, 774, 776, 778, 780, 782, 784, 786, 788, 790, 792, 794, 796, 798, 800, 802, 804, 806, 808, 810, 812, 814, 816, 818, 820, 822, 824, 826, 828, 830, 832, 834, 836, 838, 840, 842, 844, 846, 848, 850, 852, 854, 856, 858, 860, 862, 864, 866, 868, 870, 872, 874, 876, 878, 880, 882, 884, 886, 888, 890, 892, 894, 896, 898, 900, 902, 904, 906, 908, 910, 912, 914, 916, 918, 920, 922, 924, 926, 928, 930, 932, 934, 936, 938, 940, 942, 944, 946, 948, 950, 952, 954, 956, 958, 960, 962, 964, 966, 968, 970, 972, 974, 976, 978, 980, 982, 984, 986, 988, 990, 992, 994, 996, 998, 1000, 1002, 1004, 1006, 1008, 1010, 1012, 1014, 1016, 1018, 1020, 1022, 1024, 1026, 1028, 1030, 1032, 1034, 1036, 1038, 1040, 1042, 1044, 1046, 1048, 1050, 1052, 1054, 1056, 1058, 1060, 1062, 1064, 1066, 1068, 10

Twenty thousand dollars actually buys 10 acres of Valencia at times. We'll admit it isn't very often, but here is proof thereof. As you'll see it. The front 5 acres with trees in their 6th year and a generous crop for their age makes the first appearance of a walk farther back to the rear 5 acres where the young trees are just getting a good start you'll find your interest absorbed in a desire to watch them grow into bearing trees like their older brothers in front. You'll also find a generous equipment: Three cross pipe lines for irrigation; a half interest in a pumping plant where water costs but 30c per hour; and a little 5 room bungalow for your convenience. All this for $20,000 and besides, but $6000 is needed in cash. We say that you'll like it, maybe you won't; however, it may be, we'll stake our time against your approval.

BOULEVARD ACRES

At the Price of City Lots

By arrangement with Mr. C. S. Hubbard, we have opened up and subdivided into acre tracts his fine TWENTY ACRES of sixteen-year-old budded walnuts situated on the SAN DIEGO STATE HIGHWAY right in the heart of the TUSTIN district.

This will enable you to purchase a FULL ACRE on the STATE HIGHWAY for your FUR-BEARING RABBIT and FANCY POULTRY business, where all Southern California motor traffic passes.

With FRONTAGE of one of these ACRES on the greatest STATE HIGHWAY in Southern California you can advertise your products to hundreds of customers every day of the year.

At one and the same time you may have an UNEXCELLED BUSINESS LOCATION and a SUPERB HOMESITE, where your home becomes an INCOME instead of a dead expense.

This acreage is situated only 2000 feet from the beautiful TUSTIN UNION HIGH SCHOOL which cost well toward a half-million dollars and is said to be one of the most complete and thorough HIGH SCHOOLS in the south.

Every acre in this tract has a frontage on either a STATE or COUNTY HIGHWAY, free from all expense to the property owner. TUSTIN CITY and S. A. V. I. WATER at every property line, and electric current awaiting your use.

The RESTRICTIONS are just what you would demand and the PRICE and TERMS within the reach of those with modest means. No heavy burden of city tax and interest on deferred payments is offset by the INCOME from the WALNUTS.

CLIMATE, SOIL, LOCATION, without a peer in all of Southern California. What more can we say? BOULEVARD FRONTAGE, 100 by 435 feet at $3750.00.

SIDE STREET FRONTAGE, 145x300 feet at $2850.00.

TERMS—ONE-FOURTH CASH—BALANCE, 4 years at 7 per cent semi-annual interest.

It will be a great pleasure to assist you in selecting your FUTURE HOMESITE. Courtesy to agents.

ADOPT S. A. INDOOR BALL LEAGUE SCHEDULE

GOLF

By JOE WILLIAMS

Bobby Jones was playing Walter Hagen in their historic match out at Pasadena, Fla., a few weeks ago. The Georgia amateur had finished the first half of the match eight down and was laboring under a gigantic handicap. Yet he was at least left the chance that belongs to a man who refuses to admit defeat. They halved the first hole. Jones got his par four at the second but Hagen dropped a 50-footer from the edge of the green for a birdie three to become nine up. The third was halved in fives.

This brought the players to the first short hole on the course, a one-shotter 140 yards long and ferociously trapped. They both got home with their mashes. Jones was away. A mighty cheer went up when his 40-foot putt raced on a bee-line for the hole and dropped for a two.

Hagen All Over

Hagen, 35 feet away himself, watched the white egg glitter through the early Florida morning sunshine and disappear into the can. With his lips fixed in a half smile, he calmly sighted his ball, studied the roll of the green and putted. His ball dropped, too, and the hole was halved.

"That's Hagen all over for you," breathed Gil Nichols, the veteran pro, who stood watching the procedure over his shoulders.

And it is. No athlete in any line of sport has the competitive spirit developed to a higher pitch than the Rochester German, who has climbed from the caddy ranks to the position of America's greatest golfer, amateur or professional, or what have you?

Watching Hagen and Jones play on this particular green, I was reminded of a day at Flossmoor when Max Marston sank a putt from the far corner of the green to win a hole from Francis Ouimet in the national amateur championship—a hole that was to have a decisive influence on the result of the match.

Tee Shot Accurate

At the time, if memory serves, Ouimet was one down going to the thirteenth hole, a short hole much after the pattern, by the way, of the one at Pasadena where Hagen and Jones got their aforementioned twos.

Ouimet's tee shot was dead to the pin, less than three feet away. Marston's was wild. Some say it hit a Boy Scout, patrolling the green, and thus kept the ball from going into a sand trap.

At any rate when the Philadelphia putted he stood with one foot in the rough. He was that far away from the cup. It was probably as much of a surprise to him as to anybody else when the long putt dropped, after an undulating journey, over the dips and swells in the green.

I can still see Ouimet's head snapping back as he watched his rival's ball go bouncing out of sight, such was the effect on his nervous system.

And when Ouimet, called the surest putter among the amateurs, tried to drop the dinky little three-footer that faced him he MISSED!

Marston's long putt had whipped him. He lost the next hole, became three down, and in short order was eliminated.

Bobby Cruickshank has qualified for the hard-luck championship of golf.

On four occasions in the last two years Dame Fortune has frowned on Bobby just when a title seemed within his grasp.

He recently broke the jinx by winning the north and south open. He had a margin of only one stroke over three other stars tied for second place.

In 1923 Cruickshank tied with Bobby Jones at Inwood for the national open, each finishing with 296. In the playoff Jones won by two strokes, taking 76, Cruickshank needing 78.

In the Texas open of this year Cruickshank missed a tie with Macdonald Smith when he failed to sink a three-inch putt. Cruickshank's slip at the final hole has been laid to Willie Mehlgorn, who is alleged to have yelled just as Bobby was starting his shot.

Several weeks later the irony of fate had Cruickshank and Mehlgorn finish in a tie in the big professional tournament at Hot Springs, Ark. He lost to Mehlgorn in the play-off.

Recently in the Florida open he finished all even with Johnny Farrell. Once again he was defeated in the play-off, Farrell having a margin of one stroke in the extra 18 holes.

60 GIRLS OUT FOR SANTA ANA BASEBALL TEAM

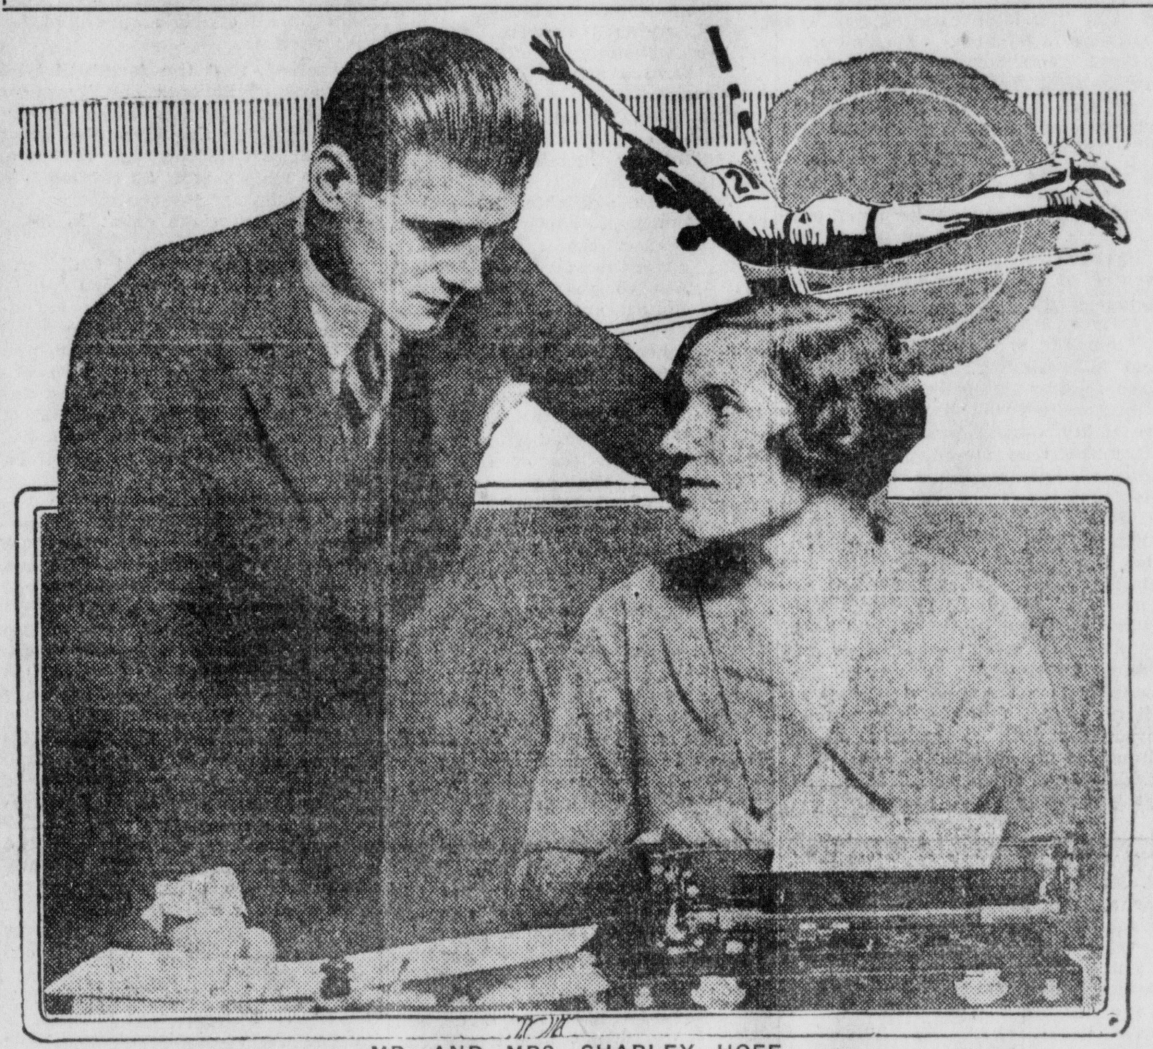

Sixty girls responded to the initial call for the indoor baseball season at the Santa Ana high school issued yesterday by Miss Alverda West, girls' coach. Other registrations were today expected to swell the number to nearly 100. Interclass games are to be played soon and intense class rivalry is resulting.

Due to the fact that the games in the interclass schedule would continue after the opening of the Orange County league series, Santa Ana has withheld making entry. Practice matches with the county schools, however, are to be arranged later.

Class strength seems pretty well divided among the sophomores, juniors and seniors. A contest paralleling this year's sharp interclass hockey clashes is promised.

The Santa Ana girls are to follow boys' rules in playing. This involves enlarging the diamond to 50 feet and placing the pitcher's box back five feet. Also the smaller 12-inch baseball is to be used instead of the 14-inch ball. These changes, already in vogue among the majority of Southern California high schools, were adopted this season by the Orange County league teams.

FORWARD SANTA ANA ENTRIES IN COAST PREPARATORY LOOP TRACK CLASSIC TO PASADENA

Santa Ana high school's entries in the third annual Coast Preparatory league track meet today were forwarded to Pasadena where the eight high schools in the fast Southern California interscholastic conference will collide next Saturday afternoon. Close to 40 varsity and Class C athletes will compose the Poly entourage.

Sprint Champs May Clash In L. A. May 15

LOS ANGELES, April 12.—Three of the world's greatest sprinters may meet here May 15, it was announced today by officials of the Southern California division of the Amateur Athletic Union.

The officials hope to have Charlie Paddock, Morris Kirksey and Jackson Scholz competing in sprint races on that date.

SHORT SPORTS

NEW YORK—Warned by the boxing commission that a heavyweight championship bout between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney would not be permitted in New York, Tex Rickard was forced today to consider Jersey City as the site for the contest or to open negotiations to raub between Tunney and Harry Willis.

BERKELEY, Calif.—Stanford's freshman track and field team is given a substantial edge over the University of California babes in their annual meet on California oval this afternoon, based on pre-season times and distances. Although neither Stanford nor California has any outstanding stars among the first year track men, competition for places is expected to be keen.

BERKELEY—With one game of the annual three-game series against their ancient rivals stowed away, the University of California was all set for an easy victory against the Stanford nine today.

AMERICAN, NATIONAL LEAGUE PENNANT RACES ON; WEATHER IDEAL IN MOST EASTERN CITIES

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Editor)
NEW YORK, April 13.—The old war-cry, "Play Ball!" splits the air today.

The season is on in the major leagues and in the American and Southern associations. Thousands upon thousands of fans are ready with the frenzied urge to get their favorites off to a flying start for the next world's series.

In the American league St. Louis was to open at Chicago, Cleveland at Detroit, Philadelphia at Washington and New York at Boston.

In the National league Pittsburgh was to open at St. Louis, Chicago at Cincinnati, Brooklyn at New York and Boston at Philadelphia.

The skies smiled propitiously in most of the major league cities today, where during the afternoon the baseball season will have its inception before thunderous audiences expected to cram the corners of eight parks.

Cold in Boston

In Boston, usually a bugbear for season's premieres, it was cold, but higher temperatures were predicted later in the day. The sun was shining brightly.

Washington's fans awoke disappointed to find the air chilled and the skies overcast. However, hope was held that the prospects would be brighter before game time.

The other cities reported almost ideal weather.

With two exceptions, the teams were in good condition to start after six weeks of training.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, world's champions of 1925, have Max Carey and Eddie Moore on the crippled list and the Philadelphia Athletics will have to start without Joe Hauser and Bill Lamar.

The New York Giants, runners up in last year's race, were quoted by Wall Street betting commissions today as an 8 to 5 favorite to win the National league pennant and the Washington Senators and Philadelphia Athletics even choice to win the American league championship.

Wall Street Picks 'Em

According to Wall Street betting the National league teams will finish in the following order: New York, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Boston, Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Chicago.

The American league, according to the betting, will find the teams at the finish in this order: Washington or Philadelphia; New York, Detroit, St. Louis, Chicago, Cleveland and Boston.

Babe Ruth, of course, will command a lot of attention. The sports fan he made to stage a comeback this season will place him in more than the usual prominence. He is in better physical shape than he was last season at this time and he certainly has an added inducement to exert himself, because this is the last season of his $52,000 a year contract.

The experiment to be made in the National league permitting pitchers to rub resin on their hands will be of more than casual interest because it will have a vital effect on the game if better pitching and less hitting result. The American league did not accept the new rule and the pitchers in the younger organization cannot use any kind of foreign substance on the ball.

Fielding and batting practice

Floyd Rister, the Santa Ana portside will be on the mound tomorrow. Coach Kidman said Rister would probably remain in the box for the full nine innings because it will be his only workout this week.

There is a remote possibility that the Fullerton high school Redlegs, credited with one victory over the Poly team this season, may be engaged for a return game here Friday but no definite arrangements have been made.

Coach Kidman announced today that his regular varsity lineup will be on the field to meet Sherman Indians. These players are Siegel, c; Heard, 1b; Pea, 2b; Daley, ss; Koral, 3b; Lindsey, cf; Schuchardt, cf; and Sullivan, rf.

Reports of the exhibition games in the south have encouraged Boston fans to hope that Braves' field is to be the home of a real fighting baseball team this summer.

Farrell Picks Way Clubs Will Finish

NEW YORK, April 13.—Following a series in which the ranking teams were discussed, the United Press offers today, the advance prediction of Henry L. Farrell, sports editor, on how the major league teams will finish. It is as follows:

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
New York Giants
Pittsburgh Pirates
St. Louis Cardinals
Cincinnati Reds
Brooklyn Robins
Boston Braves
Philadelphia Phillies
Chicago Cubs.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.
Washington Senators
Philadelphia Athletics
St. Louis Browns
New York Yankees
Chicago White Sox
Detroit Tigers
Cleveland Indians
Boston Red Sox.

OPENING GAME DATE CHANGED TO APRIL 26

Blauer, Fluor Teams Draw First Fray Assignment; Four Umpires Selected

By agreement of team managers, the second annual Santa Ana City Indoor Baseball league will begin its season Monday night, April 26, one week later than was originally intended.

Meeting at the T. J. Neal sporting goods store here last night, representatives of the Chandler Furniture company, Arnold Peek market, Tiernan Typewriter company, Fluor Construction company, F. C. Blauer grocery, Southern Counties Gas company, Excelsior Creamery company, and the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company officially adopted a schedule calling for 14 weeks of competition, each team playing twice around and getting in one game each week.

The honor of playing opening night fell to the Blauer grocery and the Fluor Construction company aggregations, these clubs being the first two names drawn from a hat. Contests will be held at Lincoln park, on French street, four nights each week—Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.

Ted Kolbe, Floyd Mitchell, Al Sanford and Jack Remsburg were named as umpires, the league to make its final decision on the arbiters after trials.

The complete schedule follows:

Week Beginning April 26
Monday—Fluor Construction Co. vs. Blauer Grocery; Tuesday—Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. vs. Excelsior Co.; Thursday—Southern Counties Gas Co. vs. Tiernan Typewriter Co.; Friday—Peek Market vs. Chandler Furniture Co.

Week Beginning May 3
Monday—Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. vs. Peek Market; Tuesday—Fluor Construction Co. vs. Southern Counties Gas Co.; Thursday—Blauer Grocery vs. Excelsior Co.; Friday—Tiernan Typewriter Co. vs. Chandler Furniture Co.

Week Beginning May 10
Monday—Blauer Grocery vs. Peek Market; Tuesday—Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. vs. Tiernan Typewriter Co.; Thursday—Fluor Construction Co. vs. Chandler Furniture Co.; Friday—Excelsior Co. vs. Southern Counties Gas Co.

Week Beginning May 17
Monday—Fluor Construction Co. vs. Tiernan Typewriter Co.; Tuesday—Southern Counties Gas Co. vs. Blauer Grocery; Thursday—Excelsior Co. vs. Peek Market; Friday—Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. vs. Chandler Furniture Co.

Week Beginning May 24
Monday—Tiernan Typewriter Co. vs. Peek Market; Tuesday—Southern Counties Gas Co. vs. Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.; Thursday—Blauer Grocery vs. Chandler Furniture Co.; Friday—Fluor Construction Co. vs. Excelsior Co.

Week Beginning June 7
Monday—Peek Market vs. Southern Counties Gas Co.; Tuesday—Fluor Construction Co. vs. Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.; Thursday—Excelsior Creamery Co. vs. Chandler Furniture Co.; Friday—Blauer Grocery vs. Tiernan Typewriter Co.

With the completion of the first round on June 11, the teams will continue, beginning Monday, June 14, on another round. The schedule for the second round will be the same as the first round, the same teams meeting on the same nights as designated in the schedule above.

TERRIBLE PAIN

Alabama Lady Tells How She Obtained Relief by Taking Cardui. Feels Fine and Enjoys Life Now, She Says

Talladega, Ala.—Mrs. Mary Hardy, 406 Henderson Avenue, this city, says that seven years ago she "got down sick" and was unable to attend to her household.

"I have never been so weak before or since," she says. "I had a terrible pain in my side—so sore in my side and the lower part of my body."

"Across my back ached, and I was so nervous I couldn't stand up. I had just about given up when some one who came to me began talking about Cardui. This caused me to get it. I took about six bottles before I saw much improvement."

"After this, though, I picked up right away. I slept better at night. I was hungry, enjoyed my food, which I hadn't done for some time."

"The pain and soreness gradually left my side. I regained my strength, took about six bottles and left off for awhile, then took two or three more. I feel just fine, enjoy life and can work now, too."

Cardui is purely vegetable, and contains no harmful drugs. It has helped thousands of suffering women and should help you, too.

FRATERNAL NEWS

NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED BY WHITE SHRINE

The installation ceremonies for the newly-elected and appointed officers of Damascus shrine, White Shrine of Jerusalem, was held Wednesday evening in El Camino hall.

The hall had been decorated by Mrs. Lillian Dawson and Mrs. Marion Wallace, who were assisted by a score of helpers. Huge baskets of calla lilies and potted ferns, mingled with sprays of wild muscades, carried out the shrine colors and made an appropriate setting for the canopies, which delighted listeners with their singing throughout the evening.

Acting as master of ceremonies, Dr. C. T. Cleland, retiring watchman of the shepherds, introduced the installing officers. Mrs. Helen T. Kellogg, retiring worthy high priestess, Mrs. Eda Marguerite Orme, past deputy supreme worthy high priestess; Mrs. Emma Mynard and Mrs. Hannah Roberts, of Pasadena, and Mrs. Lela Isabel, Fullerton.

New Officers Entered. Officers for the ensuing year entered the room, taking their places within the cross, an emblem of the order.

Officers installed were Mrs. Marianne Muller, worthy high priestess; Judson G. Sutherland, watchman of shepherds; Mrs. Ada May Sutherland, noble prophetess; Mrs. P. Pearl Nicholson, worthy scribe; Mrs. Ernie M. Nicholson, worthy treasurer; Mrs. Ethel Troxel Thompson, worthy chaplain; Mrs. Elizabeth Muller Price, worthy shepherds; Miss Henrietta Bohling, worthy guide; Mrs. Ruth J. Zabel, worthy herald; J. H. Hall, first wise man; A. R. Muller, second wise man; W. W. Zeigler, third wise man; Elmer Thompson, king; Mrs. Eva Jane Parker, queen; Mrs. Rosa Meyers, first handmaid; Mrs. Marion Wallace, second handmaid; Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis third handmaid; Mrs. Mary R. Scribner, organist; Mrs. Emma Jenson, worthy guardian, and Francis Lane, worthy guard.

Others who assisted in the ceremony were W. B. McConnell, Frederick C. Muller, Harry Roberts, Charles H. Dahlem, Okey Johnson, king's guard; Mesdames Lillian Dawson, Edna L. Clum, Yoda, M. Clain, Eva Mae McConnell, Gladys Adams, Julia Belle Preston, Jesse M. Overton, Lela May Mullins and Miss Lucy Agar, queen's attendants; Mrs. Lillian D. Vinson, Mrs. Christina M. Cleland and Mrs. Lulla B. Mosher, flag-bearers; escort, and Miss Elizabeth Dorcas Price, Miss Betty Jane Sutherland and Miss Betty Jane Seib, escort to officers.

Appreciation Is Expressed. After assuming her new office of worthy high priestess, Mrs. Muller expressed her appreciation of the honor conferred upon her, as did Mr. Sutherland, watchman of the shepherds.

Mrs. Orme was made an honorary member of the shrine.

Dr. Cleland, on behalf of the shrine, presented Mrs. Kellogg, retiring worthy high priestess, with a gold wrist-watch and in turn Mrs. Kellogg presented Dr. Cleland with a ring bearing the emblem of the White Shrine. Many other gifts and baskets of flowers were received by both the incoming and retiring officers.

Lloyd Roach, accompanied at the piano by Miss Maurie Hamill, gave two vocal numbers. Miss Diota Thompson gave a dance, assisted at the piano by her mother, Mrs. Ethel Thompson, and the program was concluded by Miss Helen Kellogg and Stuart Price, who entertained with several musical numbers.

INSTRUCTIONS ARE GIVEN DELEGATES

Daughters of the Confederacy met at the home of Mrs. T. L. Hill on Mortimer street, Thursday afternoon, when Mrs. Hill, Mrs. H. W. Head and Mrs. Clarence Nison were hostesses.

At the business meeting, Mrs. F. A. Kennedy, chairman of the year book committee, made a report which was accepted by the chapter. Mrs. Camella Hunt Phillips, president, instructed the delegates to the state convention, which will meet in San Diego in May, in regard to the chapter's indorsement of Mrs. Fitzgerald, of Los Angeles, as candidate for state president.

Mrs. F. B. Hemington, who was to have addressed the chapter on Stone Mountain memorial, was unable to be present, but she will be in Santa Ana on April 15, when the society will meet at the home of Mrs. Hill. Mrs. Hemington will have a number of coins, which will be offered for sale. These coins are the half dollars coined to commemorate the Stone Mountain memorial.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Visitors were Mrs. F. J. Gee of Long Beach, and Mrs. F. A. Kennedy.

Neighbors Visit In Los Angeles
Neighbors of Woodcraft who attended the meeting of Lauristina circle, Los Angeles, reported an unusually good time. The work was conducted in an impressive manner. Twenty candidates were initiated. Several grand officers of the Neighbors of Woodcraft and Woodmen of the World were present.

Two Officers Of District Guests Of Lodge Here

Miss Elizabeth Mang, district president, and Fred Hart, district deputy grand master, were visitors at the meeting Saturday night of Sycamore Rebekah lodge, in I. O. O. F. hall.

The evening opened with a pot-luck supper, which was followed by a business session, when three candidates were elected to membership and two applications were received.

Gifts were presented to Miss Elizabeth Mang, Miss Minnie Mang and Mr. Hart, in appreciation of their services during their terms of office.

The program consisted of a vocal solo by Fred Wilde, reading by Mrs. Robert Howe, and a whistling solo by Mrs. Henry.

MANY ORANGE COUNTY FOLK AT DEDICATION

Orange county was well represented at the dedication of the U. S. Veterans' hospital, at San Fernando, Saturday afternoon.

Speakers from Orange county were Mrs. Anna Chapline, of Orange, department president of the American Legion auxiliary; Charles E. Dixon, of Santa Ana, junior vice department commander of the department of California, Spanish War veterans, and M. C. Cooper, Santa Ana, of Calumet camp, No. 26, U. S. W. V.

The principal address of the afternoon was made by John R. McQuigg, national commander of the American Legion. Other speeches were by Vander Veer, of Los Angeles, county council of the American Legion; Councilman Charles H. Randall, of F. W. Prince, founder of the San Fernando Chamber of Commerce, Buron Pitts, past department commander, Disabled Veterans of the World War, and Col. S. H. James, chief surgeon of the hospital.

The invocation was delivered by the Rev. Gordon Palmer, chaplain of the Hollywood post, American Legion. The Hollywood Legion band played several selections.

DE MOLAY PLANS TO HUNT GRUNION

De Molay boys of the Santa Ana chapter are planning a grunion hunt at Huntington Beach, Friday night.

Other activities for the month include a dance next Saturday night and the conferring of degrees at the chapter meeting the following week.

Automobiles for the grunion hunt are to leave the Masonic temple at 9 o'clock. The De Molay members are to be privileged to bring their friends for the party. Russ Hooker is charged.

Printed invitations to attend the De Molay dance were being issued by De Molay members this week. Nick Kalliga's five-piece orchestra has been engaged. The dance promises to be the outstanding event of the DeMolay social calendar this year.

Valmer Clark is to meet with members of the second degree team at the temple tonight to rehearse the degree work in preparation for conferring the work on candidates at the special meeting, Saturday, April 24.

Pythian Sisters' Tea Club Meets

The Pythian Sisters' Tea club met last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. L. W. Bartlett, 1059 West Tenth street. Among the business matters taken up was appointment of a committee to purchase linen and silver, to be given the Pythian Sisters. At the refreshment hour, sandwiches, coffee and cake were served.

Those present were Mrs. Anderson, Miss Lucella Anderson, Mrs. Kellogg, Mrs. Sanborn, Miss Link, Mrs. Ford, Mrs. Cory, Mrs. Culver, Mrs. Cunningham, Mrs. Link, Mrs. Shidder and Miss Shidder.

Santa Ana temple, No. 115, Pythian Sisters, will hold a regular meeting tonight in G. A. R. hall, when candidates will be initiated.

Lemon Juice Whitens Skin

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quart of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Eloquent stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.—Adv.

LOCAL SCHOOL MAN RETURNS FROM OAKLAND

Measures designed to promote efficiency as well as economy in the administration of public schools, ascertaining with a greater degree of accuracy the portion of expense borne by the state and the portion shouldered by local districts, were indorsed at the spring meeting of the California Council of Education, held last Saturday in Oakland, according to word brought back by R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools. Orange county was represented at the meet by Superintendent Mitchell and Principal F. A. Henderson of the Orange union high school. City Supt. J. A. Cranston, also a member of the council, was not able to attend on account of illness.

Tax Matters Discussed

A considerable portion of the discussion was given over to the connection it was brought out that a survey of revenue measures and all forms of public expenditures is being contemplated by a certain taxpayers' association, now being organized. State Supt. Will C. Wood, touching upon the future, declared that he would welcome public inspection of all school expenditures, adding that he hoped the taxpayers' association would secure all facts and figures bearing upon such expenditures before making its recommendations.

On this subject, the following recommendations of a special committee were adopted by the council:

"To have available at all times comparative data showing the amount and percentage of state support in California; indicating decreasing or increasing tendencies."

"To make available, by means of a thorough survey, information showing the total cost of state government in California from year to year and the actual amount and percentage of state monies expended on the public schools of the state."

"To show by means of a thorough survey the amount each dollar of taxable valuation of the operative properties of the state pays toward the support of the public schools in comparison with the amount each dollar of locally assessed property pays toward the support of the public schools on the average."

Another measure receiving the indorsement of the educators is a proposed change in the California school law, to be voted on at the coming general elections, whereby county officials may transfer school funds from one district to another to tide over a temporary shortage, pending collection of taxes. Such an arrangement would avoid the necessity of registering teachers' warrants and other obligations with the banks, thereby saving the taxpayers the interest that would be charged for this accommodation.

Approval was given another measure providing for the classification of school districts, whereby legislation affecting a certain district would not affect another, thereby creating a greater latitude in self government and local control.

RED PROPAGANDA SPREAD SCORED BY CONGRESS OF PARENTS AND TEACHERS

Soviet and Communist propaganda, enforcement of the prohibition law, early closing of the Mexican border at Tia Juana, county aid to the Crippled Children's Relief association, and other matters are touched upon in resolutions adopted by the fourth (Orange county) district California Congress of Parents and Teachers, at its annual convention held Saturday in Laguna Beach.

Whereas, the view of the apprehension influences, both organized and unorganized, which are seeking with insidious means to undermine the ideals and principles upon which these United States are founded, by spreading among the youth of our institutions of learning, ideals antagonistic to our Creator, our homes and our country, therefore, be it

Resolved, that we appeal to all parents, guardians and educators who live under the protection of the American flag, to instill in the minds of their children and our future citizens, respect for and loyalty to the ideals upon which our homes, communities and states are founded, and to warn them against those "isms" which tend to undermine these institutions.

Support Dry Amendment

Whereas, enemies of the law and the constitution are seeking to create an unbalanced American mind regarding the status of the eighteenth amendment by flagrant violation of the Volstead act, by disregarding provisions of enforcement and by misrepresenting the facts of benefits and violation, therefore, be it

Resolved, that we, the fourth district Congress of Parents and Teachers reaffirm our support of the eighteenth amendment and all necessary laws for the protection of the same, and we urge its enforcement by all officials appointed for that purpose.

Resolved, that the fourth district Congress of Parents and Teachers endorse the action taken by our authorities for the early closing of the Mexican border at Tia Juana, and we urge that it be extended to all other border towns where similar vice conditions exist in Mexico.

Whereas, the Crippled Children's Relief association of Orange county has accomplished so much in assisting the restoration of crippled children to a better condition, and, whereas, this has all been accomplished by voluntary subscription and, realizing the need of greater financial aid, have asked relief from the county, therefore, be it

Resolved, that we, the fourth district Congress of Parents and Teachers, in convention this 10th day of April, 1926, at Laguna Beach, go on record endorsing the request of the directors of the Crippled Children's Relief association for county aid for the further carrying out of the work of the Crippled Children's Relief association.

Gratitude to Press

Resolved, that we, the fourth district Congress of Parents and Teachers, extend to the press of Orange county our deepest appreciation for the extensive publicity given to our work during the year just closing, which has in a large measure contributed to the success of our activities, and we instruct the secretary to mail a copy of this resolution to each of our county papers.

Resolved, that the fourth district Congress of Parents and Teachers favorably act upon by the state executive board, namely, "Resolved, that this association approves narcotic education as a means of combating the menace of drug addiction and authorizes its president to arrange filing co-operation in the general scheme and plans adopted by the World Conference on Narcotic Education, provided that the committee shall consider only questions relating to narcotic education and provided further that the action of the conference shall be advisory only for this association and its constituent branches and members."

The WOMAN'S DAY

Cup O' News
The child must be saved even if the mother dies. This edict comes forth from the Paris Faculty of Medicine. The feeble national birth rate is given as justification for the movement. The nation is especially worried because 27 babies are born to every thousand Germans, and only 20 to every thousand French. Thus do mothers pay in a new way for the glory of war and the grandeur of nations.

In the same breath that France says, "save the child even if the mother must die," another nation, Australia, adds its mite to the glory of the childhood, the nation's potential wealth. A woman can be exempt from the $10 fine imposed on non-voters if her excuse is that she remained at home to care for her child.

Should boys and girls of high school age be educated together or separately? The Teachers' Union of New York City is now actively investigating the field and plans to support such an innovation if findings warrant it. Arguments are that the paths of boys and girls diverge at high school age, and that too much time is wasted in forcing boys to acquire a girl's interest, and vice versa.

Notes from Abroad
"Couchettes" are an innovation on European trains in an attempt to give sleeping space to the impoverished traveler who cannot afford a sleeping car berth. Despite that the railway company warns purchaser of couchette space that it is assigned irrespective of sex, the railways are now receiving many kicks from irate feminine travelers complaining of embarrassment. The couchette is merely a bed which accommodates four passengers.

Advance Fashion
The tuxedo dinner suit for women having been duly launched on a gaudy world, the designers now produce the feminine smoking suit for the lounging hour. Of black cloth skirt with braided down each side, black velvet dinner jacket, black tie and white waistcoat.

The Lovers
do grow sentimental. Comes a note from "Program Chairman," telling me of "the famous lover evening," which "our literary club is planning." And will I, asks she, suggest a famous twain other than Romeo and Juliet, and Adam and Eve? I will! Pyramus and Thisbe, Dante and Beatrice, Abelard and Heloise, Theseus and Ariadne, Robert and Elizabeth Browning.

Books
If you like stories about noble, capable, efficient business women who turn up their proboscis at this thing called matrimony and then eat their own words and fall in love and marry one of the erst-while scorned sex, you'll like "Gifts of Sheba" by W. L. George. Isabel married Hugh. Isabel wanted to dominate the home roost and so did Hugh. Hugh wanted to support Isabel and Isabel was too proud to "be kept."

Now—how's this? We quote from the book: "The only men who can live with modern women are those who don't give a damn for them."

Bit O' Rhyme
"Ah, yes, I descend into the grave
May I a small house and a garden have;
A few friends and many books—
both true,
Both wise, and both delightful, too."

LAUGHTER

I thank the Lord for laughter and I thank the Lord for mirth,
For who can start a chuckle sweeps the sorrows from the earth.
Though it may be but a minute, swiftly born and swiftly spent,
The weight of care is lifted on the flood of merriment;
And for all those sixty seconds pain and anguish disappear,
For there's never any heartache in the laughter which you hear.

There are times when man is solemn and is burdened down with care,
And you know his heart is heavy, for life isn't always fair.
There are countless disappointments for us all along the way,
Many doubts for each to master,

Cynthia Grey Says:
Wives Are Wasting Lives in Endless, Useless Treadmill of Complex, Silly Housework.

"Housework is more disagreeable than almost any other occupation. It is an everlasting repetition without accumulative progress."

"It is a hard destiny, an exhausting treadmill. Some few women like it. But love of housework is not inherent in femininity. Women inherit tastes and talents from their fathers as well as their mothers."

I quote from a magazine before me. I think of this dragon called "Housework."

I wonder who it is that made housework the complex, silly, insane thing that it is. I wonder when it all began. I wonder who will have the courage to destroy utterly and ruthlessly three-fourths of the meaningless forms of housework.

Women have gone on for centuries and centuries wasting their strength on fol-de-rol, and the complexity of housekeeping grows and grows, while business routine grows more and more simple.

I heard my married friends Bert and Betty squabble about this very thing not long ago. She had served a four-course meal most properly, according to all the prescribed forms. Dinner over, she was frankly too tired for a table of bridge.

Bert bawled her out.
"If men ran houses, he said, 'we'd serve all the meals on chips and throw 'em out the door afterwards!'"

"And wouldn't homes be delightful places?" asked Betty.
"You're darn right they would!"

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

NO. 8—THE SOFT DAVENPORT AND THE RADIO

There sat the radio set, on a little brown table.

Mister Tingling and the Twins walked into Ringtail Coon's apartment in the hickory tree, as Ringtail held the door open.

When Ringtail gently closed the door behind them, he had a look in his eye that the spider must have had when he invited the fly into his parlor.

It was a very funny look indeed, and I do wish that smart little Nancy or wise little Nick had noticed it. For if they had, they might have saved the little fairy landlord about three bushels and a half of trouble.

But although magic shoes will make you little and take you places, they can't do everything in the world.

So nobody noticed the sly look in Ringtail Coon's eye as he closed the door and led them into his sun-parlor where the radio was.

There sat the radio-set, on a little brown table, but before Ringtail turned it on, he invited them to sit down on his willow davenport all covered with cushions.

That willow davenport with its soft cushions! Really, I wish you could have seen it! It was as comfortable as a big feather bed and a Cadillac automobile and a hammock and a swing all rolled into one.

The windows were all open and the breeze blew in and smelled as delicious as a bottle of broken perfume. I mean a broken bottle of perfume, and besides it was as cool as though it had been kept on ice for hours.

The poor little fairy landlord was so hot and tired, and the Twins were so hot and tired, that when they sat down on that lovely davenport with the breeze blowing over them, all three of them felt that they never wanted to move again—rent day or not.

Ringtail Coon sat down on the little stool in front of his radio and turned some knobs.

"Who! Wheel! Squeeee!" it went at first.
Then he turned some more things and suddenly somebody began to

Menus for the Family

BY SISTER MARY

Breakfast—Stewed dried apricots, cereal, thin cream, baked eggs, rye muffins, milk, coffee.

Dinner—Baked and stuffed codfish, creamed potatoes, buttered cauliflower, stuffed green pepper salad, bran rolls, canned peach shortcake, milk, coffee.

Cod is one of the best of fish on account of its high mineral content. While the large cod is cut into steaks the smaller fish is deliciously stuffed and baked. Codfish is considered particularly good for children since it's not an oily fish and therefore easy to digest, and of course because of its high food value.

If muffins are baked in long gem pans instead of round ones there is more surface exposed to form crust and the muffins are more digestible.

Rye Muffins
One cup white flour, 1 cup rye meal, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 4 tablespoons sugar, 1 egg, 1 cup milk, 3 tablespoons melted butter.

Mix and sift flour, salt, baking powder and sugar. Add rye meal and mix thoroughly. Beat egg until light, beat in milk and stir at once into dry ingredients. Add melted butter and beat hard for two or three minutes. Pour into hot buttered iron gem pans and bake 25 minutes in a hot oven.

Breakfast—Stewed prunes, cereal, thin cream, baked eggs, crisp toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Creamed fish in rice cases, bran rolls, head lettuce, lemon sherbet, milk, tea.

Dinner—Baked spaghetti and veal, endive salad with bacon dressing, whole wheat bread, fudge cake, shredded fresh pineapple, milk, coffee.

Rice cases for creamed meats, fish or vegetables are delicious, nourishing, not too expensive and not too hard to make. Beside this they are "ordinary."

Rice Cases
One cup rice, 3 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 1½ cups milk, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon paprika, 1 egg yolk, 1 whole egg, fine dried bread crumbs, melted butter.

Wash rice through several waters and steam until tender. Add salt when half cooked. Let cool. Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add milk, stirring constant. Season with salt and paprika and cook three minutes. Remove from fire and stir in beaten yolk of egg. Stir in rice. Pack into a well buttered pan, making a sheet about two inches thick. Cover with oiled paper and put a weight on top. Let stand until cold and firm. Remove from pan and cut into rounds or squares as preferred. Remove centers to form cases. Roll in crumbs, dip in egg slightly beaten, with 1 tablespoon milk and roll again in crumbs. Brush over with melted butter and put into a moderate oven to heat through and brown. ORIENTAL

FUTURIST DESIGN
This Windsor tie and handkerchief set of yellow crepe de chine is printed in a futurist design in several contrasting shades.

A Thought
Lest I should be exalted above measure through the abundance of the revelations, there was given to me a thorn in the flesh, a messenger of Satan to buffet me.—2 Cor. 12:7.

Temptations are a file which rub off much of the rust of self-confidence.—Fenelon.

BEAUTY CHATS

ANSWERED LETTERS

Miss B. S.—If you have not tried lycopodium as a powder, you may find it more suited to your skin than rice of the other powders that do not give you satisfaction. You can buy lycopodium in any quantity at the drug stores. The shade is a deep cream and the texture medium, just as you say you should have for your skin. A few drops of any extract added to powder will scent it if you wish.

Katherine F. H.—It is impossible to state just what proportions constitute the ideal form, as standards change constantly in this respect. At present the waist measurement counts for nothing when considering proportions. Hips and bust should be about equal. A girl of 22 years with a height of five feet, three inches, should weight about 120 pounds. She would likely have a bust and a hip measurement of 34 inches; arms about ten inches around the top and the forearm eight, tapering to six inches at the wrist; thigh 20 inches, calf 13 and ankle eight.

Mrs. Fannie J. K.—It is not reasonable to attribute overweight to the fact that people drink water with their meals. There is nothing fattening in water, even though some people have increased their weight after drinking more water than formerly. What the water has done is help cleanse their systems, after which they have had better assimilation, with a corresponding gain in health, and weight.

John F. G.—Work involving physical activity needs more calories than work of a mental nature. There are also other considerations: if you are underweight you will need a surplus, vice versa if you are overweight.

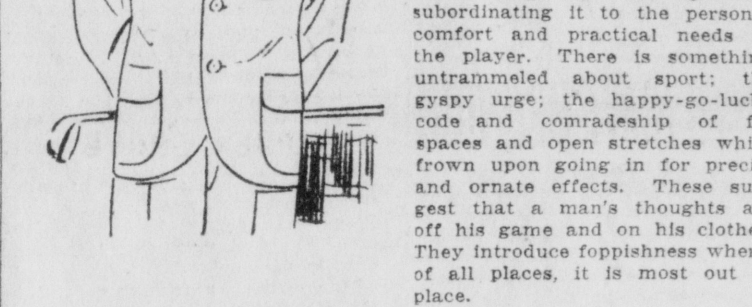

Growing children need more calories than adults, especially during the period of adolescence from 14 to 18. Elderly people do not require as many calories as middle-aged persons.

Mary L. J.—There are very few instances when massage does not restore a scalp to a healthy state if there is nothing wrong but sluggishness with its attendant effects. Lack of color and sheen, dryness and broken ends may come from nothing but poor circulation. You will always improve the health of your scalp by increasing the circulation in it, so you will be benefited no matter what causes the present condition of your hair.

Jennie F. G.—There may be some depilatories that so discourage the growth of superfluous hair that they finally destroy it without injuring the skin, but most of them that contain chemicals strong enough to do this will be harmful to the skin.

Tomorrow—A Cold in the Head.

The WELL-DRESSED MAN
By BEAUNASH
Corrects Clothes To Meet The Obligations Of Every Occasion

Therefore, the prevailing idea about sporting clothes is that they should be soft in drape, loose in looks and light in weight. Hang, not fit, is the cardinal consideration. Coats may trace the lines of the figure, but should not accentuate them. Fabrics should be roughish, rather than smooth-nap. Light colors or sprinklings of light with dark and bold designs such as checks help to give sporting suits a character and an individuality which set them apart, and properly, from town clothes.

The widespread acceptance of the so-called "four-piece suit," consisting of coat, waistcoat, trousers and knicker, is a concession to popular taste more than an expression of fashion. This style is about the same as though somebody were to bring out a "four-piece" evening suit composed of dinner jacket, tail coat, waistcoat and trousers appropriate alike for informal wear and formal. The notion would be ingenious and time-saving, but it would never be smart. Field clothes are field clothes, and town clothes are town clothes, and sport and street can never meet.

The golf suit, portrayed in the accompanying sketch, shows the correct cut for spring and summer. It is the 3-button model having notched lapels, patch pockets and a very slight shaping to the waist. The front is rounded off. The shoulders are broad. The back may be plain or cut and without a vent or it may have a half-belt traversed by lengthwise expanding pleats or it may have a half-belt. Some jackets have the shoulder-yoke, as well. The general effect of such a style is one of free-and-easy looseness hinting at brawn-and-biceps underneath.

HOLLYWOOD, April 13.—Gradually the bizarre gayeties of the film set give way to the venerable and respectable pastimes of more prosaic communities. Pitching horseshoes has taken the studio world by storm.

Time was when the haute monde of Hollywood scoffed raucously at the retired patriarchs of Iowa who introduced the sport via Pasadena and Long Beach. Today almost every movie lot resounds with the clank of flying horseshoes during intervals between the crank of cameras, and studio sergeant-at-arms are kept busy rounding up the actor devotees for more necessary, if not more important, tasks.

There are those, we presume, who would walk a mile for a camel, George Fitzmaurice, director of Rudy Valentino in "The Son of the Sheik," would walk many versts to locate a few of the humped quadrupeds. Companies on "desert" locations have exhausted the available supply of these critters to southern California. Rearrangement of plans due to this shortage compelled the Valentino company to bring the desert to the studio by way of 20,000 tons of sand for necessary shots.

Considering a movie career on the cold dollar basis, how much may a talented young novice expect during the first five years of the more and more difficult climb toward stardom?

The reputed salary and option arrangements between Paramount and the graduate students of this company's school for screen acting affords a good gauge.

Sixteen of these students, regarded as promising material, are reported to have a three months' contract at $75 per week. After that there is an option for six months' at $100, another six months at $150, a third like period at $200, with three further successive annual options at $300, $400 and $500 weekly.

This, if the successive options were exercised, would pay the actor $4500 the first year, $7200 the second, $12,500 the third, and so on up to a little over $25,000 the fifth year.

Compare these salaries (assured of course only by proven merit and sustained popularity) with what these same young men and women might by their own efforts earn during the first five years in business or professional channels.

For most youngsters, even of most brilliant promise, these figures will not destroy the dream of affluence held out by the movies. But for every one who manages to cling to opportunity and succeeds, hundreds, ensnaring the "extra" route to a contract, slip back with disillusionment into the realm of commoner chores.

Latex, the milky-white liquid that flows from the bark of a rubber tree, is the source of all rubber. The United States Rubber Company ships latex from its rubber plantations in the Far East to its tire factories. Special machinery treats tire cords in a latex bath and lays them side by side, producing Web Cord. See below.

A—Latex-treated Web Cord. Note how each cord lies smooth and parallel and absence of cross tie-threads.
B—The old-style cord structure with cross tie-threads and uneven position of cords. Compare with Web Cord.

Here are the Answers to your Questions about Latex-treated Web Cord

Q—What is Latex-treated Web Cord?
A—Web Cord is the special cord structure developed by this Company for Royal Cords and other United States Tires.

Q—How does Latex-treated Web Cord differ from the cord structure used in other makes of tires?
A—Each individual cord from which Web Cord is made is latex-treated by immersing the cords in a latex bath. The cords are then laid side by side and when the liquid dries they become webbed together by pure, natural rubber.

A—Some do, but not in latex.

Q—What is the object of treating cords with latex?
A—All tire cords must be impregnated with rubber. Using latex impregnates the cords with rubber, without using chemicals.

Q—Why don't other manufacturers use the Latex Process?
A—The Latex Process was developed, patented and is owned by the United States Rubber Company.

Q—What are the advantages of Latex-treated Web Cord?
A—Greater flexibility, strength and longer life in cord fabric. The Latex Process surrounds and protects each cord with rubber and webs it to its neighboring cords with a flexible rubber coating. This does away with the necessity for cross tie-threads.

ANAHEIM YOUTH WINS PRIZE IN ESSAY CONTEST

Ford Educational Road Show Is Topic for 1000 Words in Competition

By MILDRED LATOURETTE
ANAHEIM UNION HIGH SCHOOL, April 13.—The Anaheim High school feels very proud that one of our students won the ten dollar prize offered by the Ford Educational Road show for the best 1000-word essay written on the show.

The prize winner is John Stransko who has gained fame on the campus through his part in the recent opera production here. In a letter received by Principal Clays from Sid McGraw, manager of Ford distribution in the Anaheim district, he states that "it was unanimously agreed by different ones in our organization, that John Stransko's composition won the prize."

Following are some excerpts from John's essay.
"The Ford Educational Road show held at Anaheim was unquestionably educational as well as interesting and successful in demonstrating the numerous Ford products. The products were thoroughly proved before the eyes of the public and their superiority shown. New added improvement to the tractors, trucks and cars were displayed, and satisfactorily tested before many interested observers."

Proving the Ford products by an actual demonstration before the eyes of the public in the way of power and economy not only on low first cost but also on dependable service and durability was the aim of the Ford people."

Mr. Stransko states that "By concentrating a little, one's efforts in essay writing may be well paid for when entering a contest, so students don't pass up such opportunities. You may easily win, and if not, the practice will be of benefit to you for future contests."

3-Act Farce To Be Produced By Grove Thespians

By MARY HESS
GARDEN GROVE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, April 13.—"The Whole Town's Talking" is the name of a three act farce written by John Emerson and Anita Loos which has recently been chosen for the senior play at the Garden Grove union high school. The play will be given in the grammar school auditorium on May 14.

Harry Munz, the popular president of the student body, plays the leading role as Henry Simmons, a manufacturer. Hilda Arkley plays opposite Harry as Harriet Simmons, his wife. Both Hilda and Harry have taken prominent parts in many of the school plays and they have ability to make their parts go over with great success.

Alora Owen plays the important part of Miss Ethel Simmons, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simmons. She plays opposite Clyde Collins who takes the part of Chester Benney, Mr. Simmons' partner.

The play is to be a "crackerjack" according to the estimation of the seniors. They also say that it is better than the junior play and that those who attended the junior play will admit that it was the best one ever put on at this school. The seniors intend to make "The Whole Town's Talking" go over much better than the junior play.

MIND YOUR BUSINESS

How easy it is for one to draw lazily. "Say old top, you look unoccupied. Why not run over to the dictionary and find out what repudiate means?" or "Bring me a drink of water, Sonny, will ya?" Easy? Yes, but not a good idea. Why not exert a little energy and trot about on our own errands?

In study hall many times it seems so simple to send the friend, who sits nearby, after a magazine, book, or a piece of paper as the time may demand. We really impose on the other fellow's good nature with trivial supplications for aid. We are not studying for ourselves alone, we are asking some one else to spend some of his spare time (and time is always precious) to do something which we would be benefited by doing ourselves. It is easy, it is time-saving, it is pleasant, but we must remember to shift for ourselves. We must remember that while the other fellow may, seemingly, graciously execute our desire we may really be interrupting some moment of need. Let us learn to run our own errands, do our own studying and let our neighbor do his.

—MARGIE EDMUNDS, Tustin Union High School.

BETTER ATHLETICS

The Students' Executive committee of Stanford university recently voted to eliminate the system of electing captains of athletic teams for a season and approved the plan of having the coach appoint a captain before each contest. This is another step towards more effective cooperation on teams and better athletics. It frequently happens that a captain is elected who is incapable of fulfilling the duties of that position. The coach is the one person who knows the qualities of the players and in his appointment of a captain before each contest, there will be more rivalry for positions and better all-around playing on the part of the athletes.

SCHOOLS LOOK FOR NEWS ON SCIENCE

By DAVID DIETZ

Science news is wanted by the readers of school age.

That is why so many leading newspapers are devoting so much attention to science these days.

Wise editors realize the importance of reaching the boys and girls of elementary, junior high and senior high schools.

Dad brings home the paper that son and daughter demand.

Furthermore, the boy or girl who learns to like a certain newspaper is a reader made for life. He will keep on reading that same newspaper when he grows up.

The schools are awake today to the tremendous importance of science. At first science was taught only in the senior high schools. Then it was introduced into the junior high schools.

Educators are now seeking ways to introduce as much science as possible into the grammar grades.

No text book can keep up with the swift progress of science today. Accordingly newspapers which specialize in accurate scientific news are regarded with high favor by teachers. They encourage their students to read these papers.

Aside from its appeal to students, science news is something different for the average reader. The old familiar stereotype, so much in evidence in the average murder or divorce or holdup story, is lacking. Instead there is a new departure, something unique and thought-provoking.

In addition, science news helps build a newspaper's reputation for enterprise, authoritativeness and public spirit. It gives the reader the feeling that his newspaper is competent and expert. It increases the prestige of the newspaper in other fields; for the reader, faith in the paper which gives him accurate reports on scientific developments.

PAGEANTRY OF HUMAN AFFAIRS IS INTERESTING

By JOSEPHINE ROY

TUSTIN UNION HIGH SCHOOL, April 13.—"The greatest show on earth! Come and see the most widely known pageant ever screened! Extra! Extra! "Papper, papper. Read all about it lady!"

Yes, it is a large pageant but the characters are not always pictured in newspapers or played on the theatrical stage.

However, beauty and strength are only part and parcel of the many character traits which are expressing themselves in the "Main Street" pageant screened daily from sunrise 'til sunset in "Any Town." This performance is open to all spectators who are wide awake and of keen enough understanding to see beyond the contour of fixed facial signs.

The features as expressed by the flapper styles, "shells" and "slicers" adds to the refreshing novelty of such a pageant. In all the months recorded, rain or shine, "blushing" brides, old and young, and the "frightened" grooms, are seen to visit the courthouse and almost invariably the picture studio. At the same time that the bride and groom are visiting the courthouse, a big man with a large diamond ring on his little finger, a cigar hanging from his mouth, and a black derby pitched dangerously on the back of his head, enters the door, and from his behavior and physical appearance, spectators would judge from cartoons of such that he was a heavy taxpayer and successful merchant.

In the next, the scene shifts to the shopping districts. Painted gum chewing flappers, society ladies in the latest (supposedly French) fashions, workmen in overalls and grey caps, and children with their school books and large variety cases, more like suit cases, pass by. Small time men laden with packages, and a few women are also seen and it seems all very easy to guess who's the "boss" in that family. Some rush by as if their life depended on their arriving at their destination, while others saunter leisurely by seemingly with no anxious thought or load of care.

The observant humorist in the audience will notice however that all characters, whether seriously or humorously portrayed, appear more or less self-conscious, as if they wondered if their hats were on straight, their neckties tied, their noses powdered or what not.

Such a pageant has been reported by many observers as one of much interest.

And the curtain descends. Men, women and children, rich and poor alike all meet "like ships that pass in the night," little dreaming what friendships and lessons might be found if each individual were understood.

The English language is fast becoming the only mutual bond between British and American authors, for our native writers have practically abandoned the stylistic qualities of the English writers to concentrate upon qualities which are peculiarly American, according to Dr. Clifford Smyth, editor of the International Book Review. And in so doing, he adds, the United States now has a literature distinct from any other in the world.

"Because our language is the same," Dr. Smyth states, "it does not follow that our literature is a continuation, or even a development, of English literature. There might have been some justification for the claim to such relationship fifty or seventy-five years ago."

"But during the last three-quarters of a century America has intensified her composite character; Walt Whitman and Mark Twain recognizing this tendency, have contributed their quota of work and inspiration, and the result is the growth of a national literature different in type."

"In the leading American novels of today, the stylistic quality of English occupies a relatively unimportant place. The story is everything; the manner of its telling is not—at least outwardly—the essential problem."

"They are written in the language of the street, not of the literary study. America speaks in them, and the accent is frequently harsh, choked with dissonances that would make a more vivid, realistic, turn in his grave with disgust."

"What has happened—is happening—seems to be that America is in the throes of revealing herself in a native literature from which old forms are discarded and something altogether new is emerging."

"At first, naturally enough, there appears to be a loss in art, probably for the reason that all change seems inartistic—until one gets used to it. But there is unquestionably a new and vital substance within these forms."

OLD DIARY OF WESTERN TRIP IS UNCOVERED

After 65 Years, Precious Book Restored to Daughter of Pioneer Woman

By MABEL JONES

GARDEN GROVE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, April 13.—Just a little black diary, its pages yellowed and worn with 65 years' service, and yet treasuring within its covers a story of romance and adventure.

On May 21, 1861, according to the little black diary, Mrs. Laura Woodman Mills and family started out in a 26-wagon train headed westward, leaving Elburn, Illinois, for the distant promised land of Stockton, California.

The little diary rested all day on the jolting wagon bed, and each night saw one more page of history and of the Mills' family life written neatly in pencil upon it.

Each day the wagon train moved forward, beset by rain storms, prairie fires and Indians. Only twice, as stated by the diary, did death occur in the little band of pilgrims; when an older man died of some disease and a boy of 20 was killed and scalped by several warriors.

On September 13, 1861, the little diary, well-filled with its five months' usage, reached Stockton, California, and at last after 65 years has reached Mrs. W. B. Harper of Garden Grove, daughter of the little woman who carried it across the plains; but a shabby black diary, the most precious for the memories it contains.

TUSTIN UNION HIGH SCHOOL, April 13.—The big event of the year for the music department of T. U. H. S. will be the production of the Glee Club operetta, "Pickles," on Friday evening, April 16, under the direction of Miss Madge Stephens. This operetta excites much interest because of the fact that nearly all of the principal roles are filled by people who, up to this time, have had little or no stage experience. If one who has seen many of the rehearsals is any kind of a judge, it may be said that these students fill their parts to a "T."

J. J. J. Jones taken by Charles Crafts is very well characterized. The part of Iona, the gypsy girl, is portrayed by Charlotte Caldwell. Jonas Pennington, the elderly "Pickle King," is characterized very well by Garland Ferrell Jr., who plays his part to perfection.

June Pennington, Jonas' daughter is very well interpreted by Wynona Marriott, who sings several delightful solos.

Arthur Crefton, Mrs. J. J. Jones, is well carried by Everett Pearce. Lady Vivian De Launcey is portrayed very well by Beulah Covell. The part of the Austrian girl, Louisa, is amusingly taken by Margaret Sangster, who sings some real comedy into her part.

Jigo, the gypsy child, is convincingly played by Jack Crawford. Kinski, the chief of police of Vienna, is well impersonated by Charles Thorman.

Rumski and Bumski, the two "right-hand men" of Captain Kinski, are responsible for most of the comedy. These parts are handled by Richard Ford and Marshall Dunkin.

Although he has only a small part as Hans, the inn-keeper, James Preble does some real acting and singing.

The most distinctive part of this operetta is the humor which is interspersed in the most unexpected places by Rumski and Bumski. There is also a little bit of mystery which is caused by many of the actions of this couple.

Members of the cast who saw this operetta in the schools of Orange and Anaheim expressed the belief that these schools did exceptionally well in their productions, and it is expected that people will think the same thing about the T. U. H. S. presentation.

Spelling Matches Are Arranged by Science Teacher

By ALMA SHACKELFORD
GARDEN GROVE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, April 13.—Because so many of his students are careless in spelling, Mr. Sprinkle, Garden Grove science teacher, has decided to have spelling matches in all his science classes. Each side is proportioned according to the number of students in each class.

Each student is given a slip of paper with either the number "1" or the number "2" upon it, and in this way all number "1's" compete against the number "2's". The words are given out by Mr. Sprinkle and when a student mis-spells a word it is checked. The side having the greatest number of points wins the match. At the end of the contests each student is given a grade.

This contest is made more interesting, with the promise of a treat to the winners, given by the losers.

WOULD-BE AUTHORS ADVISED BY GEORGE HORACE LORIMER

GROVE SECONDS HAND DRUBBING TO H. B. TEAM

By GEORGE DOLF

GARDEN GROVE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, April 13.—Last Wednesday the Garden Grove second team by a score of 9-8. It was a close hard fought game and was doubtful until the end. The Grove boys overcame a lead of four runs in the fifth inning and from then the Oilers failed to get ahead. Paul Dozier was on the mound for the Argonauts and pitched the whole game.

This was the first league game for the second team and many errors were made on both sides.

The lineup was as follows: Mark and Dungan, c.; Dozier, p.; Lake, 1b.; Stroud and Lewis, 2b.; Bumgardner and Messerall, 3b.; Dolf, ss.; Allen, lf.; Chaffee, cf.; and Butler, rf.

Capital Letter

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Seriousness is U. S. Senator Gerald P. Nye's most obvious characteristic, at first glance.

A baby senator—he's a year or two older than "Young Bob" La Follette, but any senator of considerably under 35 belongs in the baby class—and a relative of the late Big Nye to boot, it wouldn't be unnatural to expect to find a bit of frolicsome in his makeup.

There doesn't appear to be any of it there. There's no pomposity, either, but the senator distinctly isn't of the mirthful type.

Nye is a young man who thinks for himself. You don't talk to him before getting that idea of him, too.

He doesn't appear to be a senator for the mere sake of being a senator, like some. He's a senator because there are things he wants to accomplish and he can accomplish them best, if at all, in congress—the senate or the lower house.

They're serious things and he has them on his mind, which doubtless is why he's serious himself.

As everybody will recall, there was a fight in the senate over the question of seating Nye.

He came from North Dakota as a Republican appointee of Governor Smith's, to sit until next November's election, in place of the late Senator Ladd, who died in office. He came, mind, as a Republican.

The part of the Austrian girl, Louisa, is amusingly taken by Margaret Sangster, who sings some real comedy into her part.

Jigo, the gypsy child, is convincingly played by Jack Crawford. Kinski, the chief of police of Vienna, is well impersonated by Charles Thorman.

Rumski and Bumski, the two "right-hand men" of Captain Kinski, are responsible for most of the comedy. These parts are handled by Richard Ford and Marshall Dunkin.

Although he has only a small part as Hans, the inn-keeper, James Preble does some real acting and singing.

The most distinctive part of this operetta is the humor which is interspersed in the most unexpected places by Rumski and Bumski. There is also a little bit of mystery which is caused by many of the actions of this couple.

Members of the cast who saw this operetta in the schools of Orange and Anaheim expressed the belief that these schools did exceptionally well in their productions, and it is expected that people will think the same thing about the T. U. H. S. presentation.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Joseph Johnson, a missionary for many years in Africa. Thirty members were present.

OSCAR WILDE PLAY TO BE PRESENTED

LAGUNA BEACH, April 13.—The Players are giving Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest" at the Community clubhouse on the evening of April 16, at 8 o'clock. This is the first play to be presented this year by this dramatic organization, and it is awaited with keen interest by local drama enthusiasts.

George Dunham, the new director of the Players, is not new to Laguna Beach, as he has played in a number of productions, notably "Clarence," in which he had the leading part. Last year, Mr. Dunham directed the May Masque at Pomona college and he also played in the Desert pageant at Palm Springs. The year before he was in the mission pageant at San Juan Capistrano.

Following is the cast which Mr. Dunham has assembled from the Community club members and their friends: John Worthing, George Dunham; Algernon Moncrieff, Le. Mr. E. Beady; Rev. Canon Chasuble, Edward De Anna; Lams, Robert P. Kellogg; Lady Bracknell, Miss Mary Richards Gray; Hon. Gwendolen Fairfax, Mrs. Lynn Weaver; Cecily Cardew, Miss Ruth Hickox; Miss Prism, Miss Annie Gayne Peake.

Those in charge of the production are Frank Champion, president of the club; Miss Mary Richards Gray, chairman of the Players, and the director, George Dunham.

William F. Gentry Dies In Fullerton

FULLERTON, April 13.—William F. Gentry, aged 67, died at his home at 229 East Wiltshire avenue yesterday morning. Mr. Gentry had lived in Fullerton for over 13 years. He was an active member of the First Baptist church here.

Mr. Gentry is survived by his widow, Mrs. Molly Gentry, and two daughters, Mrs. R. Graffius, of Bakersfield, and Mrs. E. Frey, of Whittier.

The funeral services will be held at the McAulay-Suter funeral parlors Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with the Rev. Fraser Langford and the Rev. Harry Tract officiating. Interment will be in the Loma Vista cemetery.

Modern Pied Piper Visits Beach City

NEWPORT BEACH, April 13.—It might have been the Pied Piper of Hamelin who walked down the streets of Newport Beach yesterday.

It might have been the piper himself, but for the fact that he played a mandolin instead of a flute.

His long silken hair floated in the breeze as he strolled along the ocean front, strumming his mandolin.

Children playing on the sand followed this man with the mandolin, but he did not take them away. He sat on a bench and played, while a small crowd gathered around.

"Why do you play here on the public street?" he was asked.

"I am practicing to play over the radio," he replied.

The curious crowd did not bother him.

"I practice here and I practice there," he declared.

"Come," he said, turning to a man in the crowd. "I have something to show you. It is an invention. I have it on my machine. It is a portable shoe shining parlor. When I become expert enough to play over the radio, I will set up my stand, play to get customers, then shine their shoes."

Yes, he may locate in Newport Beach or in Balboa. He did not give his name, but he said he was looking for a lively beach town where he might spend the summer.

CITRUS DISPLAY RACKS ERECTED

ANAHEIM, April 13.—With the 12 big poles that will furnish the main support for the mammoth tents that are to house the sixth annual Valencia Orange show, now in place, workmen were busy today erecting the citrus display racks in the main feature tent.

Temporary offices of the show management, established on the show grounds, are now buzzing with activity, as preparations for the exhibition are getting well under way.

The citrus and industrial feature tent is to cover an area of 130 feet by 450 feet. The automobile salon is to cover an area 130 by 210 feet and the special tent for the Laguna Beach Art association exhibit will be 20 by 50 feet. The Mid-Way concession has been let.

The tents being used for the local show are the property of Los Angeles county and were used previously for the Los Angeles county fair at Pomona. After the show, the Pomona show is superintending the erection of the tents here.

A coupon ticket good for five admissions will be sold for $1.25. The regular price of admission is to be 50 cents. Purchasers of the family ticket are thus given a worthwhile while saving, besides an opportunity to aid in guaranteeing the financial success of the exhibition, Manager Reid said.

Tickets are to be on sale at the chamber of commerce office, this city, next Saturday, it is announced.

Rare Bracelet Lost at Laguna

LAGUNA BEACH, April 13.—A real treasure has been lost by Mrs. James Irons, a citizen of Laguna Beach at the present time, but formerly a resident of many parts of the world, when her husband, General James Irons, was in the diplomatic service. The lost treasure is a bracelet made by a Chinese jeweler of Hong Kong, who employs an international reputation as a maker of exquisite jewelry. It is made of Chinese gold with the bamboo design so popular with the Chinese. Leaves of the bamboo are entwined about the main stem, which forms the bracelet. Some idea of the personal value attached to this bit of jewelry will be understood when the fact is known that Mrs. Irons possesses one of the finest collections of Japanese works of art in this country. She lived in Tokyo for several years during the time Gen. Irons was the naval attaché to the legation and it was then that many of the priceless things were given to her by the members of the royal family.

But with all these things still in her possession, Mrs. Irons mourns the loss of the bamboo bracelet made by the Hong Kong jeweler.

Fullerton Facts To Be Broadcast

FULLERTON, April 13.—Dr. George L. McClelland, local optometrist, will broadcast a talk over station KPON, Long Beach, tonight from 8 until 9 o'clock. There will also be several musical numbers.

The program will be conducted for the purpose of boosting Fullerton. Interesting facts will be given concerning the city and opportunities for business men and manufacturers, as well as the home-seekers.

Special interest is provided to listeners-in by the fact that a prize is to be awarded to the one who writes to the station from the greatest distance that the program is heard. The Northern Orange County Citrus exchange is donating the prize, which will consist of a box of Carmelita brand extra fancy Valencia oranges.

Mrs. Conway has taken to Los Angeles because of the serious illness of her sister.

Work has started on E. A. Williams' new home on Ninth street.

Mrs. Glenn Criley was taken to the Anaheim Community hospital Wednesday for an operation. She has been quite ill for some time.

Miss Gertrude Wells was brought home Wednesday from the hospital. She is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Ray Wilcox, in Alhambra now.

J. E. Wright attended a meeting and luncheon of the directors of the Junior Y. M. C. A. of Orange county at the California hotel in Fullerton Monday noon.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Payton, of Fullerton, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Snyder Friday evening.

Mrs. Rose Hartman and family visited relatives in Pasadena Sunday.

SHAKEUPS LOOM IN VARIOUS ORANGE COUNTY COMMUNITIES; OIL DRILLING WINS AT H. B.

Political shakeups and housecleanings loom in practically every Orange county town of the sixth class, as the result of elections yesterday. New blood was infused into the city boards of trustees in seven of the eight cities in the county which held elections. A record vote was cast at Huntington Beach, Seal Beach, Newport Beach, Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton, La Habra and Brea. Anaheim was the only city to return the present trustees to office.

The hottest political battle in the history of Huntington Beach was fought out yesterday, when voters lifted oil drilling restrictions in an area six blocks square in the western section of the town and, incidentally, placed O. Ray Harris and J. W. Mitchell, anti-administration candidates in the office as city trustees. Intense excitement over the oil restriction question drew out 1748 voters in the district, a record vote. Only 1315 votes were cast two years ago, when anti-administration forces defeated several members of the board for re-election.

The election of Harris and Mitchell, defeating Richard Drew and H. T. Dunning, was somewhat of a surprise. L. B. Ridgeway, W. B. Wharton and Charles G. Boster are the other three members of the board of trustees. Rumors of a shakeup in the city have been heard. The vote on the oil restriction question was 1149 for raising and 548 against raising the drilling restrictions. Mitchell received 940 votes, Harris 958, Drew 763 and Dunning 761.

The raising of oil restrictions in the district from Seventeenth street to Twenty-third street, in the western section of Huntington Beach, is expected to result in a building and business boom in the town. Most of the property is owned or under lease by oil companies and feverish activity should mark the area within the coming week, as oil companies rush work on wells and others rush work on offset wells to protect their own interests.

A record shakeup is expected at Newport Beach following the election yesterday of H. H. Williamson and Felix Modjeska, who defeated Mayor George P. Wilson, Walter Burris and Frank L. Matthews. Modjeska was high man, with 531 votes. Williamson had 505 votes; Wilson, 179; Walter Burris, 151; Frank Matthews, 114. Roy H. Summers defeated Mrs. Mildred S. Porter in the race for Newport city treasurer by a vote of 416 to 318. Mrs. Porter is the widow of J. A. Porter, former city marshal and city treasurer, who committed suicide a few weeks ago. Summers was running on the same political ticket as Modjeska and Williamson.

Alfred Smith, Newport city clerk several years ago, was returned to office, defeating W. H. Nickerson, incumbent, by a vote of 389 to 369. Nickerson was appointed recently by the board of city trustees to fill a vacancy left by the resignation of V. A. Sebring. Sebring was elected over Smith two years ago.

A fire bond issue of $30,000 for the purchase of a fire engine and a new fire hall was defeated by Newport voters. The vote on the fire bond issue could not be secured this morning. A salary measure, providing for city trustees to receive $50 a month instead of $25, was carried by a large majority.

Voters in Orange voiced a request for something new in the line of city government, when they elected Alfred Leach and Ross Miller for a term of four years and John Eggers for the two-year term. Leach and Miller defeated Mrs. E. Brown and Arch D. Burkett. W. T. Fogie was defeated by Eggers. Leach polled 1262 votes, Miller 991, and Burkett and Brown about 600 each. Eggers received 1650 votes, while Fogie was credited with 359 ballots.

Three city trustees were elected for a two-year term and one for a one year term at Brea. C. A. Sullivan, Forest Hurst and F. W. Schweitzer were elected for two years each, receiving 332, 329 and 325 votes, respectively. They defeated A. A. Anderson, W. D. Shafer and A. D. Yost, who received 292, 324 and 316 votes respectively. J. A. Luezingler received 338 votes to defeat G. H. Templeman, with 287 votes, for the short term. Walter C. Davis was elected treasurer.

He had no opposition and polled 488 ballots.

Five trustees, a city clerk and a

OLIVE CITRUS ESTABLISHMENT BEGINS PACKING

OLIVE, April 13.—Expecting to ship more than 600 cars from Olive district this year, the Olive Fruit company, independent packing plant, today had started its 1926 Valencia harvest, being one of the first houses in the Orange citrus belt to launch Valencia operations.

About 40 packers are now being employed, but as the season advances, the working force is expected to be increased materially.

The plant is shipping five cars per day at present. With a large crop to handle, the estimate for the 1926 season calls for shipping approximately 600 cars, it was stated.

Auxiliary Will Hold May Dance

ORANGE, April 13.—Plans for future events occupied the attention of members of the American Legion auxiliary yesterday afternoon in Legion hall.

Chief among the coming events under discussion was the May dance to be given May 7, at the Woman's clubhouse. Invitations have been mailed to over 150 individuals. A general invitation has been extended to the American Legion Post.

A "poverty dinner" is planned. The idea, according to officials of the auxiliary, is to serve a menu as cheaply as possible. The one having the cheapest meal and yet the best will win a prize to be offered.

The concluding card party of a series of six is being held this evening. Prizes will be awarded the winners.

On May 30, the local auxiliary will sell poppies. Over 1000 poppies were ordered at yesterday's meeting. The retail price of the poppies is to be 10 cents each.

Ten local auxiliary members attended the board meeting of the San Fernando hospital last Saturday.

3 Card Parties Are Scheduled

ORANGE, April 13.—Three card parties are to be held within the next few weeks as the result of the meeting of the committee appointed at the last meeting of the executive board of the Orange County Federation of Women's clubs.

The committee convened at the home of Mrs. J. F. Keller, local Woman's club president, yesterday to complete arrangements. The first party is scheduled for May 12 at 2 p. m., at the Orange Woman's clubhouse.

Another the following Wednesday was arranged for at Huntington

Beach. The concluding one of the series has been scheduled for the succeeding Wednesday, but the date was left open for future action.

The receipts for the three affairs are to be used at the fresh air camp in Trabuco canyon this summer.

The committee that arranged the parties consists of the following members: Mrs. J. F. Keller, Orange; Mrs. Ella Stillens, Garden Grove; Mrs. Lois C. Robb, Huntington Beach; Mrs. C. G. Houston, Costa Mesa; Mrs. Ada Purpus, Laguna Beach.

Newspaperman Speaker At Orange Session

ORANGE, April 13.—Speaking on "The Newspaper Game," Ben H. Read, secretary of the Editorial Association of Southern California, addressed the members of the Business and Professional Women's club last night at their weekly dinner at the Hotel Rochester.

A Salvation Army major from Long Beach appealed for aid for the girls' rescue home in Los Angeles. Necessary action was taken to furnish the aid requested. A committee was appointed to prepare plans.

Guests at the meeting were Justice Cramer and W. J. Sutherland.

Ethel Stewart led community singing, accompanied by Adele Proctor at the piano.

JOINT MEETING PLANNED TONIGHT

ORANGE, April 13.—Called from the city by a telegram last evening, Nels T. Edwards, highway commissioner, will be unable to give an address at the joint meeting of the chamber of commerce and the Merchants and Manufacturers' association at the Hotel Rochester this evening.

Another speaker will be secured, according to V. D. Johnson, chamber secretary.

Alfred Leach, Ross Miller and John Eggers, newly elected trustees, and their wives will be guests at the dinner and probably will be called upon to make talks, stated Johnson.

A group of high school girls and a male quartette from a local church will entertain.

Any who wish to attend may do so, stated Johnson. A round table discussion will be held for the purpose of bringing out defects or merits in the work of the chamber, stated Johnson.

The dinner will start at 6:30 o'clock.

Falling Hair, Dandruff Warn of "Alopecia Pityrodes"

Which Brings Baldness in Two to Seven Years

Analysis of Records of Microscopic Examinations Made by Nationally Known Hair Specialist Show "Alopecia Pityrodes" Cause of 85% of Baldness.

New Formula to Stop Disease, Restore Scalp to Healthy Condition and Grow New Hair, Originated by Prof. John H. Austin, Proved Remarkably Effective in 1033 Test Cases.

SCIENTIFIC research by Prof. John H. Austin, nationally known hair specialist, has disclosed the cause of 85% of baldness, and 1033 test cases have proved the effectiveness of a new formula. Now, warned in time by falling hair, oily hair, dandruff and itching scalp you can arrest the progress of the disease, restore the scalp to normal healthy condition, grow new hair and prevent baldness with this remarkable new formula.

Microscopic Examinations Reveal Truth These discoveries of Prof. Austin are the outcome of over 40 years' active practice as a hair and scalp specialist. For the past three years, he has kept accurate records of each case coming under his personal observation; records showing the scalp disorder indicated by microscopic examination, the treatment recommended and results obtained. A recent analysis of these records revealed two important scientific discoveries; the cause of practically all scalp trouble and the remedy to remove the cause.

The Signs of "Alopecia Pityrodes." How to Tell if You Have It.

The common cause of scalp trouble is "Alopecia Pityrodes," a serious trouble often mistaken for dandruff, which occurs in two forms: the first starts with a slight scaling of the scalp, producing dry, flaky scales like dandruff making the hair dry and brittle; the second causes the hair to be oily and stringy, with thick grayish white, greasy scales on the scalp. Sometimes a terrible itching is also noticed. Both forms cause falling of the hair, which gradually increases as the bacteria multiply, until baldness results in from two to seven years.

One Formula Brings Amazing Results Of nine tested formulas originated by Prof. Austin, one special remedy known as "Formula G" produced remarkably beneficial results in practically every case, stopped the progress of the disease, restored the scalp to normal healthy condition and promoted a growth of new hair.

This remarkable formula combines the only ingredients known to Science as actually effective in the treatment of "Alopecia Pityrodes," in the only form in which they can be maintained in their full strength. "Formula G" is therefore a pleasant cream which is packed in special applicator tubes to make treatment easy, quick and convenient.

Prevent Approaching Baldness—Grow New Hair Now "Formula G" penetrates to the very roots of the hair, and there attacks and destroys the destructive bacteria. It cleanses the scalp and stops itching immediately. It stops falling hair, and by stimulating, reviving and nourishing the hair roots promotes a luxuriant growth of rich, lustrous hair. Start this treatment which Prof. Austin actually proved effective in his private practice in hundreds of the most stubborn cases of hair and scalp troubles. At all druggists.

Record of Cases No. 312: SYMPTOMS: partially bald; REMEDY: Formula G; RESULTS: Fine new hair growing; No. 313: SYMPTOMS: itching scalp; REMEDY: Formula G; RESULTS: itching completely relieved, scalp cleared; hair in beautiful condition.

STAND WITH RIVERSIDE

It is hard for a Los Angeles booster, who is for Los Angeles first, last and all the time, to realize that any other part of Southern California exists. Or, if it exists, that it exists for any other purpose than to help Los Angeles. Los Angeles, too, seems committed to the theory expressed in the four words, "whole hog or none."

The attitude of Los Angeles toward the location of a farm school in Southern California has been wholly selfish. It does not want a farm school for the benefit of the farming sections of Southern California but for the benefit of Los Angeles city.

As a matter of simple justice, Riverside is entitled to the permanent farm school that in time will be developed in this end of the state. It is entitled to it because, by reason of foresight and enterprise, it long ago secured the support of its sister counties for its project, and, through activity at Sacramento, secured the actual purchase of 300 acres at Riverside as a site for the farm school. The state thereby actually committed itself to the project, and no one had any notion that the farm school could or would be located elsewhere until the group of Los Angeles men who saw to it that the southern branch of the University of California was located in Los Angeles. In that matter, Orange county's offer was given short consideration, though we believed then and still believe that it was the best offer made to the state.

Not content with taking the university for itself, Los Angeles now desires to take the farm school. It has sent a delegation to Washington to endeavor to secure legislation that will allow the transfer of 160 acres of the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle from federal ownership to state ownership. It is proposed to use this 160 acres for the farm school. This would mean abandonment of the Riverside school. The location of this Los Angeles land in itself ought to be sufficient argument against the proposal.

France's idea of how to solve any big national problem is to call a mass-meeting of ex-premiers.

THE GOOD CITIZEN AND TREES

Very soon now comes the "week" in which this country will "Save the Forests." If only that important piece of work could really be accomplished in one week of concentrated effort, how wonderful it would be! For there would be the concentrated effort.

Everybody loves trees. Everybody knows by this time a little about the importance of forests, ever-renewed, to a thriving nation. But not everybody feels a personal responsibility to any special tree or group of trees or to the country's forests, existing or proposed. So the adoption of sound national and state forestry policies is slow, and a long process of education is necessary.

That education is what national "Save the Forest Week"—April 18-24—will help along. The single week, no matter what its activities, can't do all its name suggests, but it can push forward knowledge of the problem and enthusiasm for its solution.

A statement of Theodore Roosevelt's needs to be recalled and emphasized at this time. He said:

"A people without children would face a hopeless future; a country without trees is almost as hopeless; forests which are so used that they can not renew themselves will soon vanish, and with them all their benefits. When you help to preserve our forests or plant new ones, you are acting the part of a good citizen."

It might be more serious for the League if the nations, instead of scrapping about getting in, were scrapping about getting out.

PEACE FOR RIFFIANS

The French, after making great preparations for their spring campaign in Morocco, have decided to conciliate Abd-el-Krim and his Riffians instead of fighting them. They offer him liberal terms, while insisting that he acknowledge the Sultan of Morocco as spiritual head of his people. With that reservation, the Riffians may have about all the independence that they want.

It is embarrassing for the fiery and indomitable Krim to acknowledge the supremacy of anybody but himself, spiritual or temporal. But if he is wise, he will yield rather than fight to the extermination of his brave little nation.

France is no less wise in proposing peace in Africa, with her hands full in Syria, not to mention her financial and political troubles at home. The French people are weary of supporting, with money and blood, distant colonial wars in which they have no interest.

France would be wiser still if she also adopted a conciliatory policy in Syria, which she is managing for the League of Nations. She feels that she must fight to the bitter end there, to subdue the rebellious natives she is supposed to be governing for their own good, in order to save her military prestige. Meanwhile she is losing moral prestige.

An Arctic explorer says airplanes may be used to carry reindeer meat. From recent aviation experiences in the Arctic, it looks more as if reindeer may be used to carry airplanes.

FEW SEAMSTRESSES NOW

The Northern Association of Philadelphia for the Relief and Employment of Poor Women has been forced to disband, after an honorable career of service lasting for 77 years. The reason may furnish a text to some of our social philosophers.

The association has been accustomed to helping needy women by giving them employment as seamstresses, making garments, quilts, etc. There are still plenty of needy women, it appears, in spite of current prosperity. But a change has come over the poor. Women who need help, the social workers find, are no longer able to sew.

The time when needlework was a universal feminine accomplishment is past. Many women have learned to do many new things for a livelihood, in this modern age; but the one thing on which every woman formerly could depend for her bread and butter as a last resort is nearly obsolete. Ready-made clothes, like every other useful innovation, have not been an unmixed blessing.

Some moralists may see in this a new reason for teaching girls to sew. If there are other and better guarantees against pauperism, the fact remains that ability to make or mend one's own clothes is always a valuable accomplishment.

A GREAT MAN IS GONE

In the death of Luther Burbank, all California mourns. But Burbank was more than a Californian; he was a world figure. So, today, the world mourns that it became necessary for death to come to this lover of nature and worker of wonders in plant life.

California is joined by the whole world in tribute to the achievements of Luther Burbank. Quietly, carefully and intelligently he carried out experiments. First of all, he was a student of nature. He watched things grow. He drew his own conclusions. He tried a thing, and, if it did not work, he tried something else. His work with plants was based on scientific fact. The benefits brought to mankind through his achievements cannot be measured in money.

He Knows South America

San Francisco Chronicle
Often and with good reason the complaint has been made that the people of the United States have not shown a warm interest in the ideals of the Latin-American republics with which we share the New World. South Americans have been amazed by our indifference to their political and commercial development that presents so rich a field for trade. And they are appalled by our entire lack of knowledge concerning the cultural development that they have carried to so high a point.

The remarks by President Coolidge before the Pan-American Congress of Journalists disclose that he does not share the unfortunate ignorance of most of our people concerning our neighbors. And it will be gratifying to the people of those ambitious nations to know that our chief executive is less neglectful, and that he sets an example by the attention he has given to the march of progress in South America.

While we have been busy about other concerns of our own, South America has built up a body of literature, distinctive and valuable. It has produced great elegance in the arts. Almost unnoticed by us, Latin America has produced a very high order of painting, sculpture and architecture.

Of the remarkable achievements by our neighbors even those circles among our people who are considered well-informed know little or nothing. Incredible as it seems, Chinese literature is better known in the United States than that developed in South America. Lack of excellence is not the reason for this. Perhaps it is because channels of communication have been built up to the east and west so that we have had constant interchange of thought with Europe and even the Orient, while that with South America has been intermittent.

Whatever the reason, there has been a lamentable lack of contact with the people of South America. We have assumed that they understood our ideals and political philosophies and so felt safe always to turn to the United States for whatever they might need. But there can be no one-sided understanding. If they are to know us for what we are, we must know them. Their story of progress is a fascinating one, and their artistic creations open a delightful field. A friendship in which there is much to learn as well as to teach is offered. We can profitably follow up the president's suggestion.

Deaths by Auto Increasing

Pasadena Star-News
A startling total of 1484 persons went to death in automobile accidents in California during 1925. This is a new high record for the state. It was 129 more deaths than occurred during 1924 from the same cause. The 1925 record averaged about four deaths daily. Of the number of tragedies during 1925, 202 were from automobile traffic, 202 were children under the age of fifteen years. There were 222 children killed during 1924, making a total of 424 boys and girls slain in two years, in traffic.

In the matter of children killed in automobile traffic, the responsibility rests partially upon parents. Children of tender years should not be permitted to wander, unattended by adults, into the streets. Furthermore, children, as they grow old, should be taught enough to comprehend and to heed, should be taught how to take care of themselves in traffic. Much is being accomplished, for the safety of school children, by warning marks, to stop traffic while children are crossing intersections. In some places tunnels are constructed at dangerous intersections, to accommodate pedestrians.

In the matter of traffic tragedies, there is one word of warning and caution that is always in order—Careful! By exercising due diligence, drivers and pedestrians alike may diminish the number of traffic deaths. A great many fatal accidents in streets and highways are preventable. This is where the warning, "Be Careful!" should be heeded by all who use the streets and highways, either in driving or walking.

GUARD BABY FROM FLIES

To protect the health and life of a baby during the summer requires of those entrusted with that baby's care watchfulness, patience, skill and particularly knowledge of the additional dangers to be avoided which summer brings. One of the most important of these is the all too common house fly. This pest unquestionably kills many babies. It tracks its filth-laden feet across the refuse pile and the garbage can, it carries an additional load to your table, to the food which you are preparing for your baby unless watchful care is taken and the necessary safeguards provided.

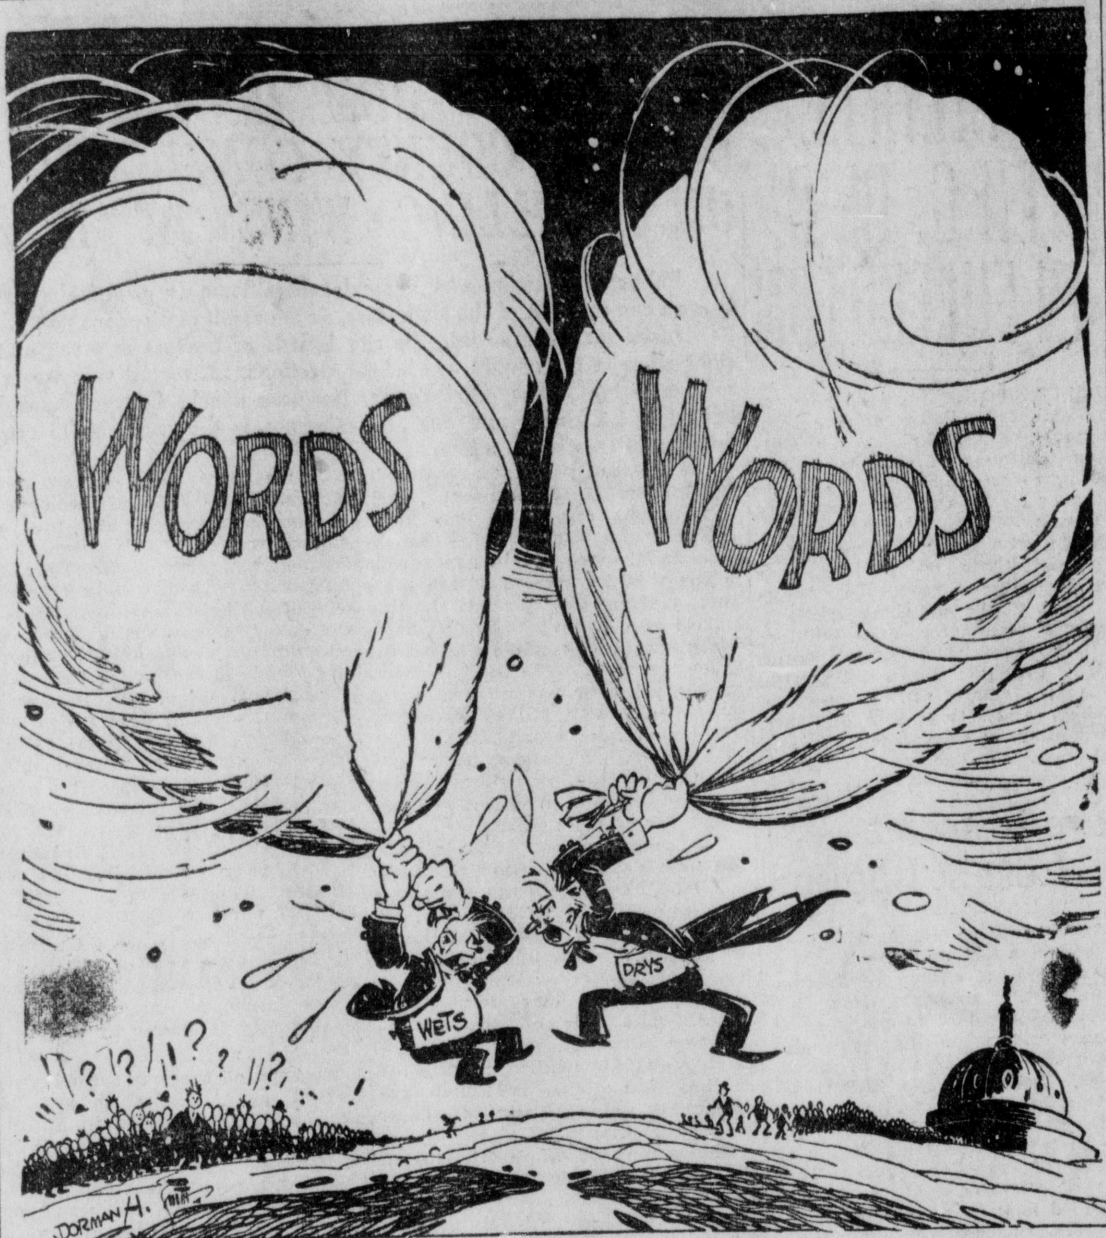

Of course, every house should be screened, but the home that holds a baby should be of all the most carefully screened. The baby's room should be protected against flies.

Flies are attracted by the presence of food. Careful housewives who keep their houses and surroundings clean and neat and protect all food are bothered least by these disease spreaders.

Flies carry disease on their hairy legs and sticky mouth parts and infect many a baby. They light on clean bottles and nipples or in the milk which you are preparing for baby's meal and deposit there the material which causes intestinal disorders of children.

This is not a matter of guesswork. Clean-up campaigns again and again have demonstrated by actual figures the advantage of such campaigns in the saving of human life.

My Gosh, Another War!

The Best Investment

Long Beach Press-Telegram

Many a poem, many an invention, many a great enterprise, has been born through the benevolence of habit.

The recent passing of a great painter brings this to mind. If we look at men in the mass we find that, like the animals, they are continuously employed in obtaining food for themselves and families; but when they have satisfied their actual wants they do not, like the animals, rest at their ease; they continue their labors.

Take the life of an ordinary man. He adopts an occupation first in order to get bread; that he may marry and have children; and these also he has to feed. He soon desires to rise in his profession, or to acquire such skill in his craft that he may be praised by his superiors and by his companions. He desires to make money that he may improve his social position; and, lastly, he begins to love his occupation for itself, whatever it may be.

When the pleasure of money and fame has been exhausted, when nothing remains on earth that can bribe the mind to turn from its accustomed path, it is labor itself that is the joy; and it is continued with indefatigable zeal. This nobler condition of the mind, which thus makes for itself a heaven upon earth, can be attained by those who have courage and resolution. It is the effect of habit. Labor is painful to all at first; but, if the artist persevere, he will find it easier and easier, until at last he will find it necessary to his life. The toils which were once so hard to endure are now sought and cherished for themselves. The mind becomes uneasy when its chains are taken off.

AWAKENING

O wind of delight on the hill,
Blow through me! Cleanse me of languor.
O sun of morning!

My feet have marched to the drum-beat of habit,
I have let the dust gather over my dreams;
I have walked in the street, forgetting the paths,
Dew-wet on the hill-side.

But this morning I rose from sleeping,
And the wind of delight blew straight from the hills,
Straight and keen from the sun morning!
And I awoke, awakened from sleeping,
And slung my dreams over my shoulder.

Look for me no longer, marchers to drums of habit,
Dreary walkers of the accustomed streets,
Look for me no longer! I have taken a path to the hills
Where the wind of delight is blowing.
And I carry my dreams, new-shining, over my shoulder!

Asleep on the Job?

Riverside Press

Senator Lyman M. King, editor of the Redlands Facts, has seen the reapportionment issue discussed before the legislature, in the newspapers and in other connections. Three years ago he was one of the speakers who discussed this problem before the Present Day club of Riverside and he gave a very able presentation. He makes the following interesting contribution to the discussion that has been started as a result of the movement in Los Angeles for an initiative act on the subject.

"The present situation has come about largely through the inactivity of the country districts, which have permitted the city sections to get the edge on them in the movement. What should have been done long ago is the adoption of a new constitutional provision, providing that the rural districts shall retain control of one house of the legislature. Such a project has been advanced, and talked about a good deal, but the interests behind it, after whipping it into shape two years ago, allowed it to go by default and it was not placed upon the ballot."

"The cities mentioned are acting well within their legal rights, in offering the act which will require the new apportionment of districts, and any member of the legislature, rural or otherwise, is but meeting to the full his oath of office, if he shall support such a plan, in the legislature. But outside the legislature each is an individual and is entitled to take any position as a citizen, he desires. It is generally accepted as a line of governmental policy that it is better for any state that control of the legislature shall not lie within one or more great centers of population; that it makes for better government if the rural districts shall have the control in one body, so that the great producing interests of the commonwealth shall be better represented."

"It is recognized as a fact that the members of the legislature sent from the large cities have very little sympathy with what they are pleased to term the 'cow counties.' The farming interests seem to them to be of comparatively little importance. The grade of legislators, it can be said fairly, is lower in urban representation than in rural. Country legislators more generally aim to represent the products, the industries of their districts and of the state—the big city legislators represent more closely the political ideas of the majorities as shown among their constituents. It is a fact that the great dairy, live stock, citrus, grain products; the irrigation and conservation projects which need legislative attention, get little consideration from most of the representatives from the big cities."

"The importance of these things. So it is generally accepted that government of the state by the big cities is not the most desirable thing in the world."

"But 'constitutional re-apportionment,' as that term is now thrown at us by the papers from the big cities means just that thing—that the three cities mentioned, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland, will dominate both branches of the legislature, in the event of the present scheme succeeding. And it will probably succeed, unless there is a movement on the part of the rural interests to present a contra amendment, offering the wiser provision. Indeed, it may succeed then, for the cities will vote for it very largely."

"In effect, that the rural counties in the legislature the position of the rural members has been one largely of opposition; they have not offered any constructive program of legislation as offset to the demands of Los Angeles. The farm bureau organization framed a constitutional amendment two years ago that provided for a plan of re-apportionment that would have resulted in a senate controlled by the three large cities of the state and an assembly controlled by the districts in the state outside of those cities. There was a good prospect of putting that amendment over but the plan was dropped for the alleged reason that funds were lacking to secure the necessary signatures. If that matter had been up to the individual farm bureaus of the state, they would have organized to secure the signatures. And it would have been an easy matter to secure from a few hundred to a thousand signatures in any rural county in the state."

Now Los Angeles is going ahead with a city plan of re-apportionment; and no alternative to it is likely to be presented. The only suggestion on the other side is that the women's club undertake to secure signatures to place on the ballot an amendment similar in character to that framed by the farm bureaus two years ago. Unless something of the sort is done, the city amendment, as Senator King says, is liable to win because no alternative is offered to it and because there is no organized opposition to it."

From a Science Service Bulletin.

The fat person who is active in habits and frugal in his diet is the one who furnishes the real problem in obesity, authorities say. Does the fat one carry out his fundamental exchange of energy more economically, with a large surplus of energy left over? Dr. Solomon Strouse of Chicago and his collaborators in a study of basal metabolism say that fat people conserve the body fat and thus acquire a surplus while the thin use up their food fat instead of storing it.

Since it has been established that the rate of metabolism, or exchange of food into energy, of the obese is normal, some physiologists have tried to account for the surplus of fat on the grounds of heredity. Dr. C. B. Davenport divides the population into three elementary species, called biotypes, characterized by their build, slender, medium and fleshy. In some families only one type is involved, in others two or more. In some cases the variation may be due to the idiosyncrasies of the endocrine glands or to constitutional and cultural factors in the manner of living.

As one authority has remarked, the large amount of public interest in obesity is in marked contrast to the small amount of scientific information. We do not yet really know why the fat are fat.

The Wisdom of Nature

By A. Lawrence Hawthorne

The one great lesson men should learn from Nature

Is that cooperation brings success!

We know that rain and sunshine work together

To fill the world with health and happiness.

Consistently the elements contribute

Their service for the benefit of man—

Each force, though great or small may be its duty.

Does well its part in God's unfailing plan.

The songs of birds, the colorings of flowers,

The blush of morning and the kiss of night—

These all combine to form the charm of Springtime,

And so caress our spirits with delight.

Without the aid of Winter's rest, all Nature

Would soon become exhausted and decay;

Just so does darkness give new strength and vigor

And fit creation for another day.

Let us, then, borrow wisdom from the seasons,

And knowledge that shall guide us as we go

Along the busy path of life's endeavor.

Let us remember that we all may know

Success when each is faithful in his service,

And mindful of the needs of other men;

For what we give in true cooperation

Will surely come to bless our lives again.
